What Is the School

but the People?

What is it about people
 That makes them change a pile of bricks
 Into a cemetery of memories,
 And a cause for tears?
 A crowded hall, smiles and all
 Ceases to be, as the end nears.
 The walls that sheltered and protected
 the reason
 Will no longer hold their boundaries,
 And the taste of freedom
 Is on the tongues of many,
 With each successive year
 More people come, more people go.
 The walls, the halls, look a year older,
 Yet, notice how satisfied they are
 To have become a part of so many People.

FACULTY

Dr. Skaggs and James Waller efficiently carry out their duties as principal and vice-principal of Charlotte Junior High.

The Junior High secretaries display efficiency and capability in coping with the everyday problems of the office.

Left. Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Alsene, Senior High office secretaries are always helpful and kind.
Above. Mr. Womack, guidance counselor of C.J.H.S. performs many services including student counseling, testing and scheduling.

The administration of CHS, Mr. Reynolds, Mr. Parkman, assistant principal, and Mr. Garbart, guidance counselor, encourage us to have pride in our school and to maintain our school spirit.

Administration Instills School Spirit

The life of a teacher isn't easy. He must set an example for his students and be a unique blend of kindness, patience and understanding. A teacher must spend long hours grading papers, making out exams and figuring grades. Each of Charlotte Junior and Senior High meets these requirements in his own special way.

Our faculty at CHS and CJHS has but one goal in mind. That is, to impart the knowledge which they have acquired through the years to their students, for knowledge is the essence of a successful, happy life for all of us.

Dr. Longstreth, Superintendent of Schools, emphasizes the need for quality education in Charlotte County, Florida.

Knowledge Is the Essence of a Successful, Happy Life

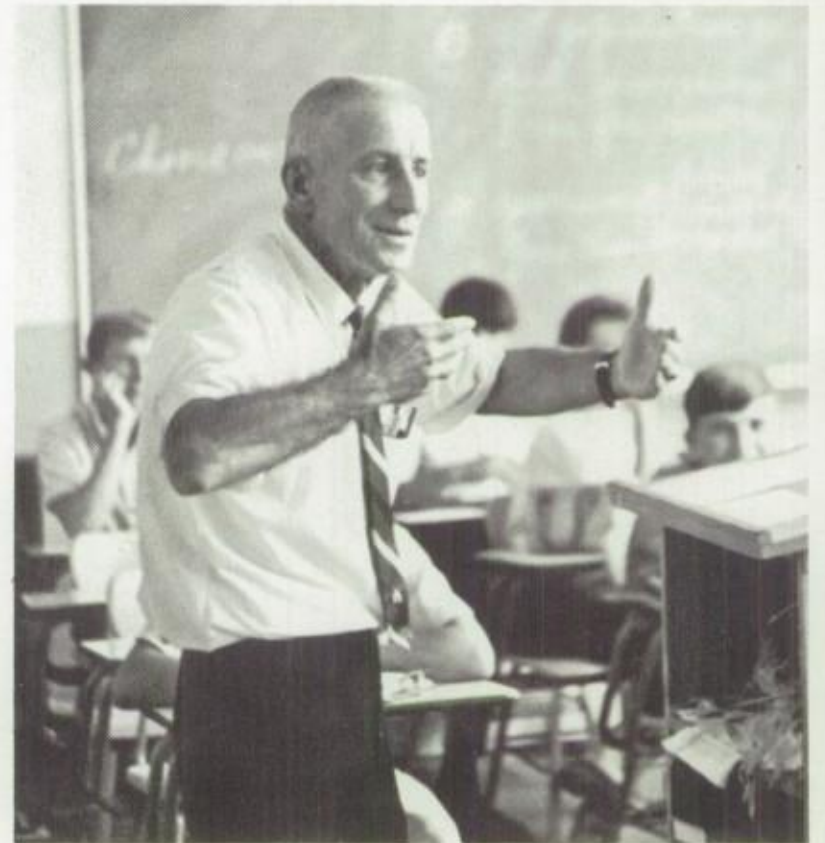

Mrs. Ruth Allison, Charlotte High special education teacher, finds her job both challenging and rewarding, day after day.

Miss Baldwin, girls' physical education teacher encourages her students to participate, knowing that PE helps to build a strong mind and body.

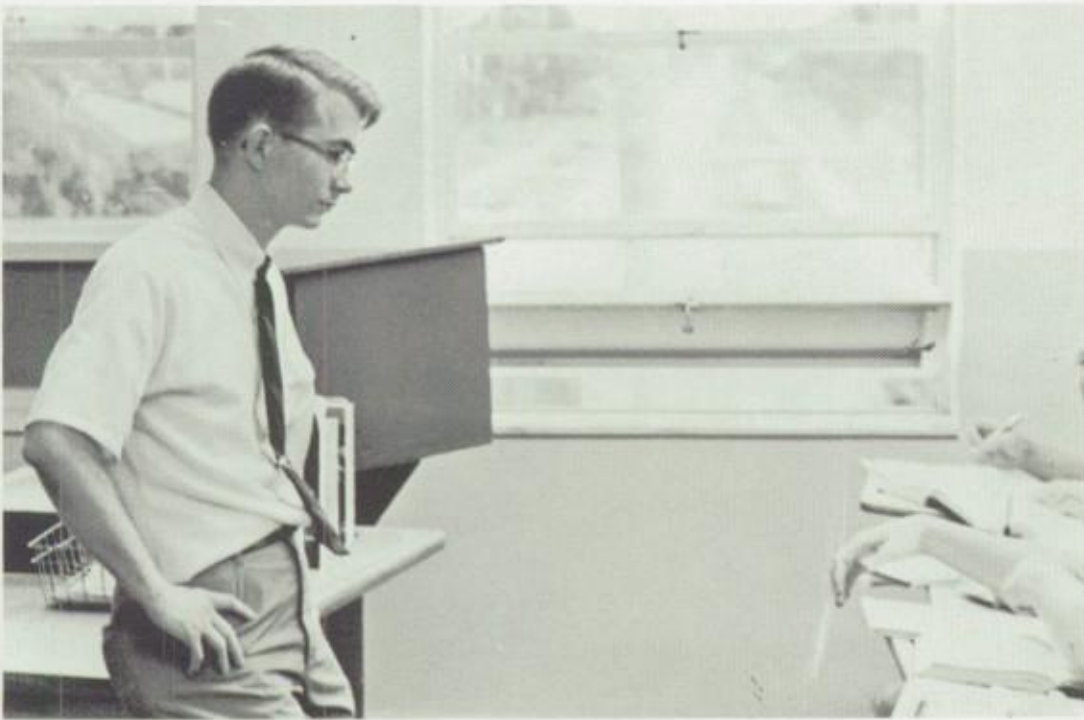

New this year at CHS, Mr. Reynolds has done a fine job of helping us build an enduring school spirit.

Senior social studies teacher, Mr. Arrowsmith, finds that a joke sets a relaxed atmosphere for his fourth period class.

Mr. Barton, science teacher, finds science to be an ever changing and broadening field.

Smiling, Mr. Blanton answers one of his student's questions about science.

English teacher, Mrs. Ruth Barton, smiles as she finds a grammar mistake in one of her student's compositions for Sophomore English.

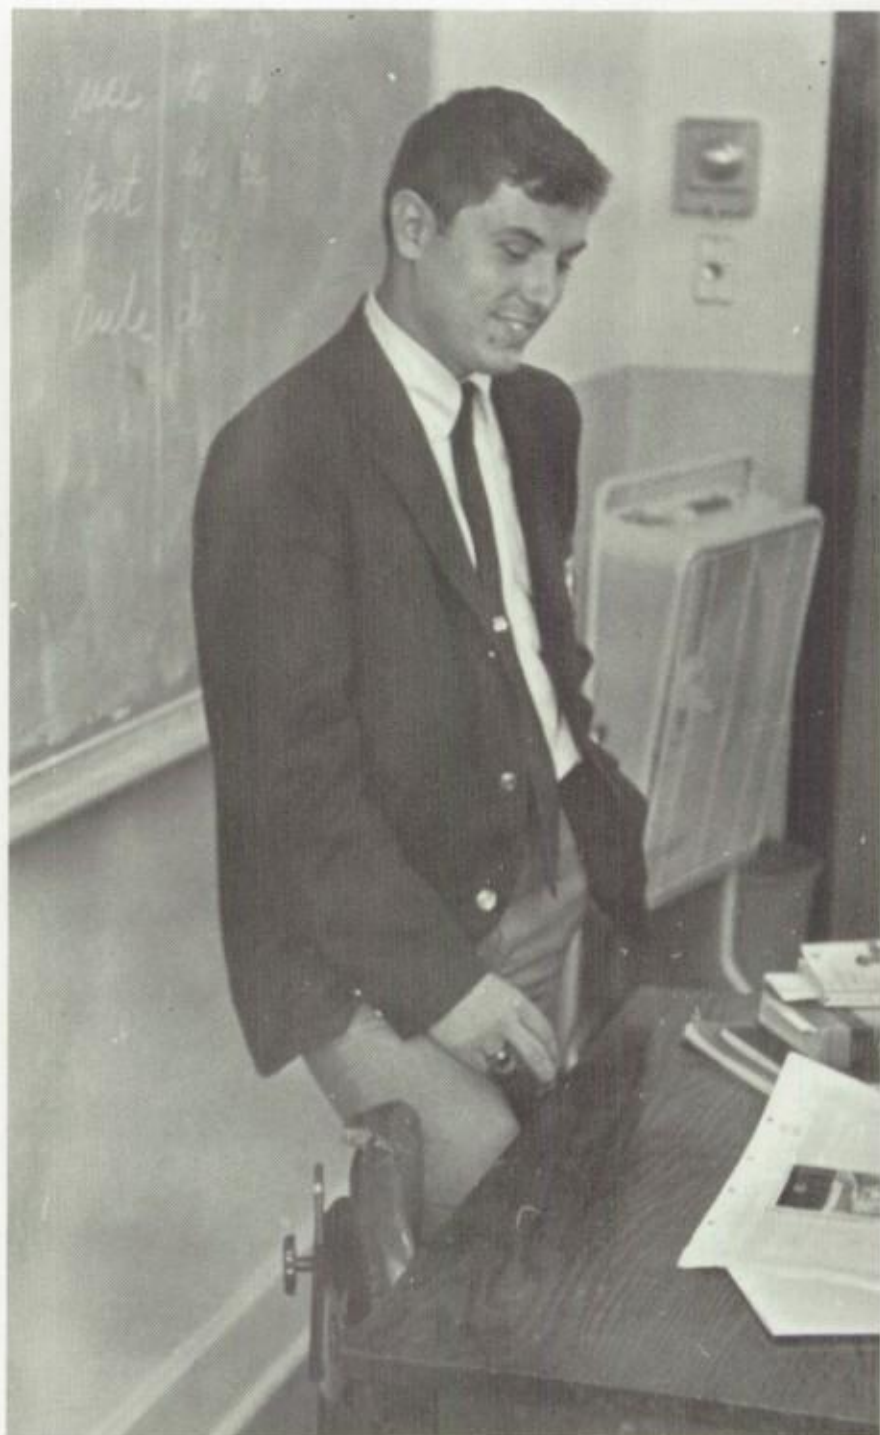

Above. Finding art an interesting subject, Mrs. Bottino cheerfully discusses the flaws in a student art project in Art I.

Left. "What a day!" exclaims Mr. Ballinger, social studies teacher, as he relaxes while grading student assignments.

Mrs. Geraldine Brayton, girls' physical education teacher will introduce field hockey to her class for the first time at Charlotte High.

"Would you believe we have a major problem?" laughs Mr. Brayton, Annual advisor.

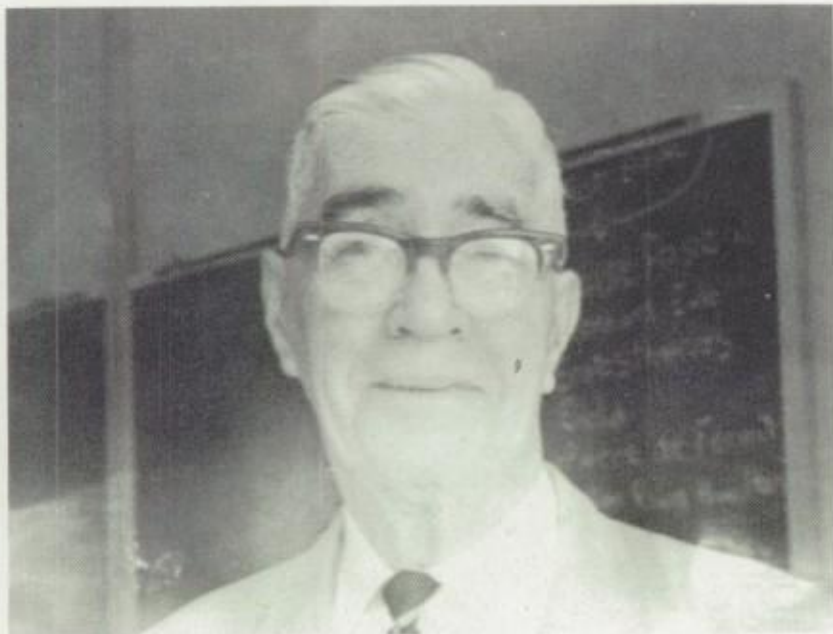

English teacher, Mrs. Carroll finds that her knowledge of foreign countries helps her in many ways.

"I hope tomorrow is a better day," reflects Mr. Carter as he concentrates on a lesson plan for his seventh grade science class.

Teachers Display High Ideals

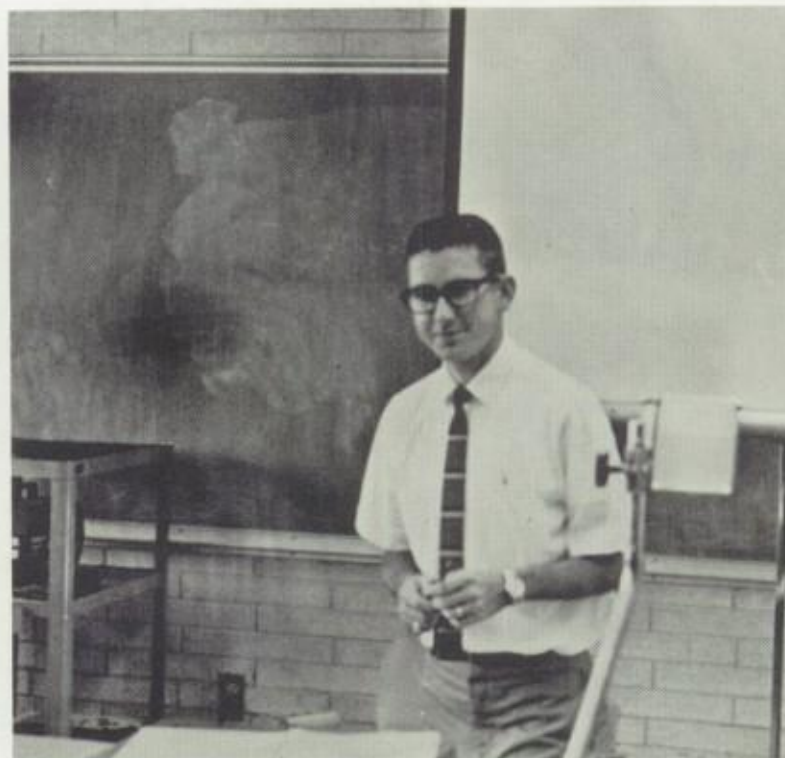

Mr. Chapman finds that teaching Junior High math can be very challenging.

"Go Tarpons," yells Mr. Chacko as he displays his school spirit at a football game.

"Please quiet down class," asks Miss Deaton, Senior High typing teacher.

"Now class, take out your notebook," smiles Mr. Christian as he prepares to use the overhead projector.

Faculty Displays Patience, Understanding

Mr. Doby, Junior High social studies teacher, keeps an eye on a mischievous class.

A friendly smile and a daily joke greet the students in Mr. Durrance's world history class.

A friendly Miss Eaton greets her Latin scholars with a cheerful, "hello".

"Why can't my students be more attentive?" sighs Mrs. Helen Emly after one of her English classes.

Miss Finney finds reading a challenge to teach.

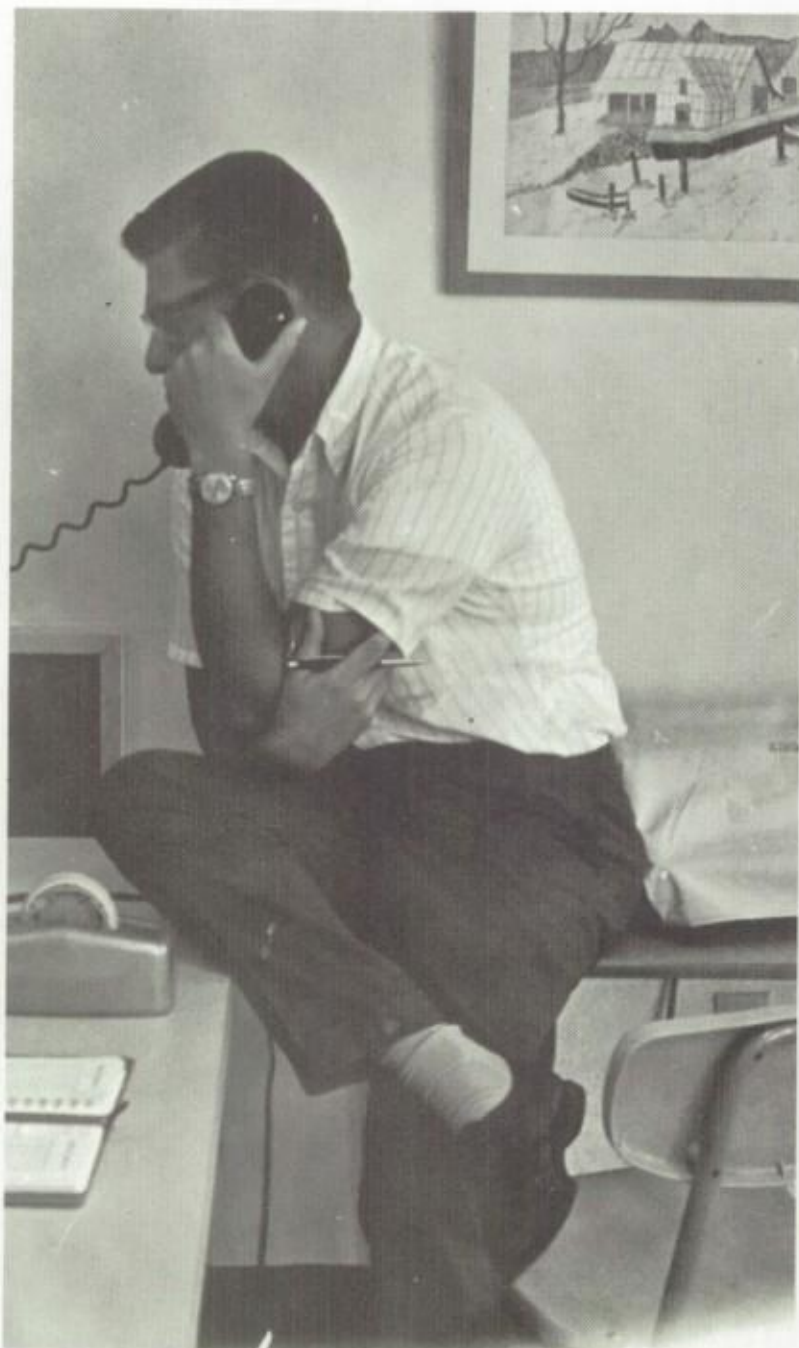

"This is the optic nerve," explains Mr. Gant to his physiology class.

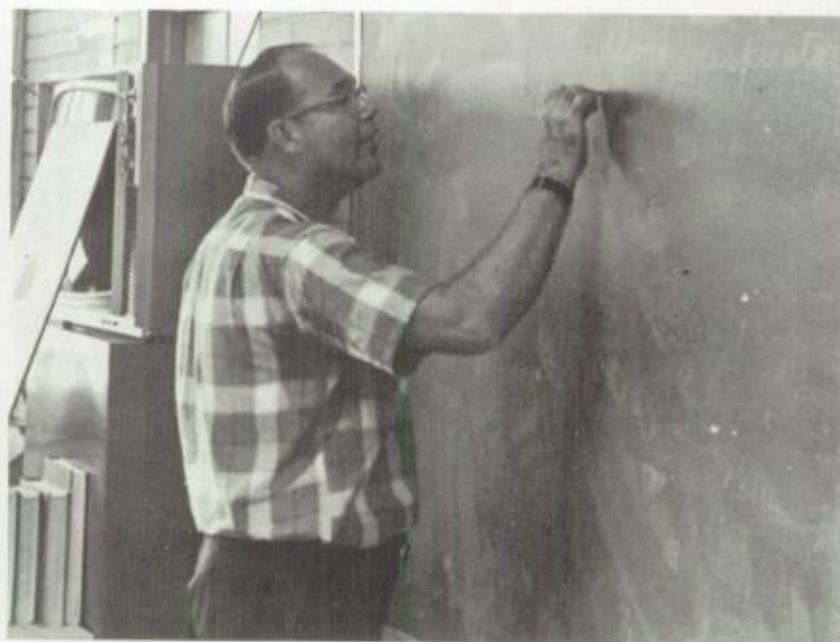

Explaining the definition of a word, Mrs. Rosalie Greene, Junior High English teacher, reflects that English isn't all that difficult.

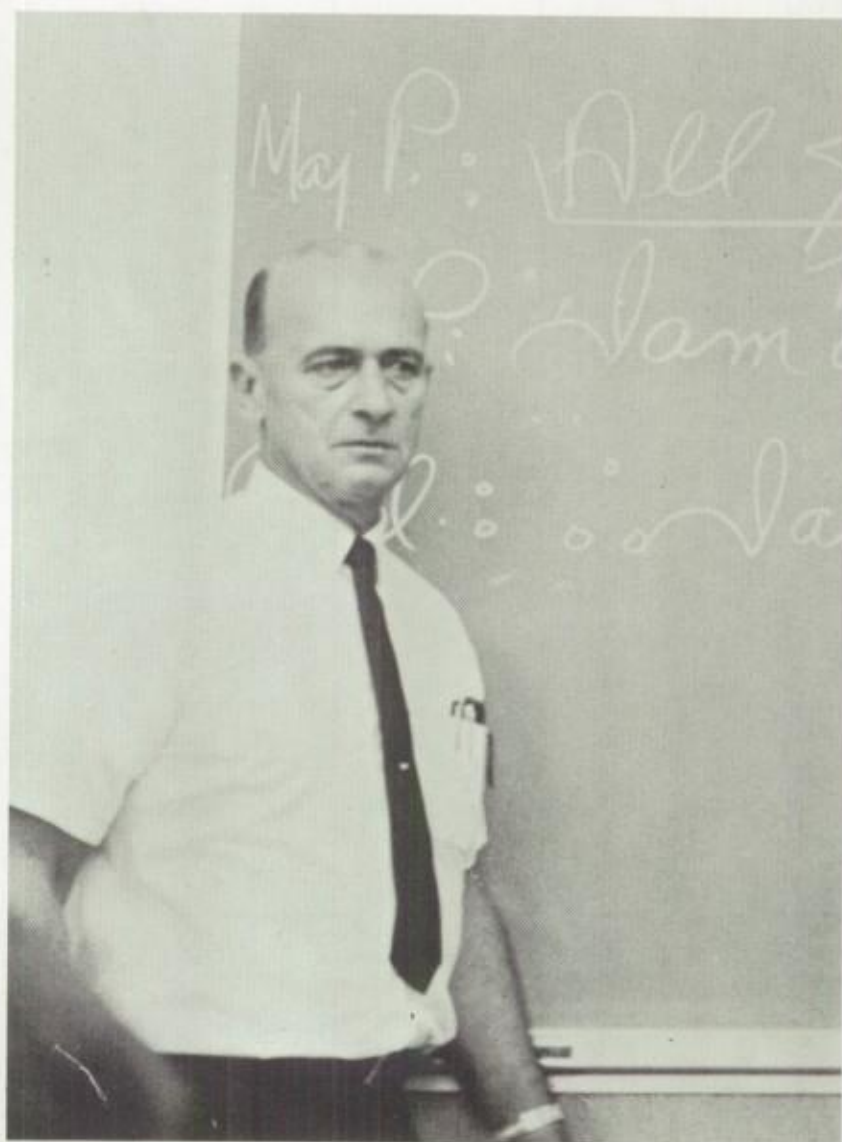

While explaining a Shakespearean play to her senior English class, Mrs. Helen Green points out the main characters.

"Oh, the trials of being Head Football Coach," sighs Mr. Gutierrez after a hard day.

Teachers Are People, Too

"Practical arts can be a very fascinating subject," explains Mr. Scott Guthrie, Jr.

No one knows better than Mr. Charles Hardy the many problems connected with teaching D.C.T., but there are many more rewards, too.

A devoted teacher, Mrs. Johnstone teaches science.

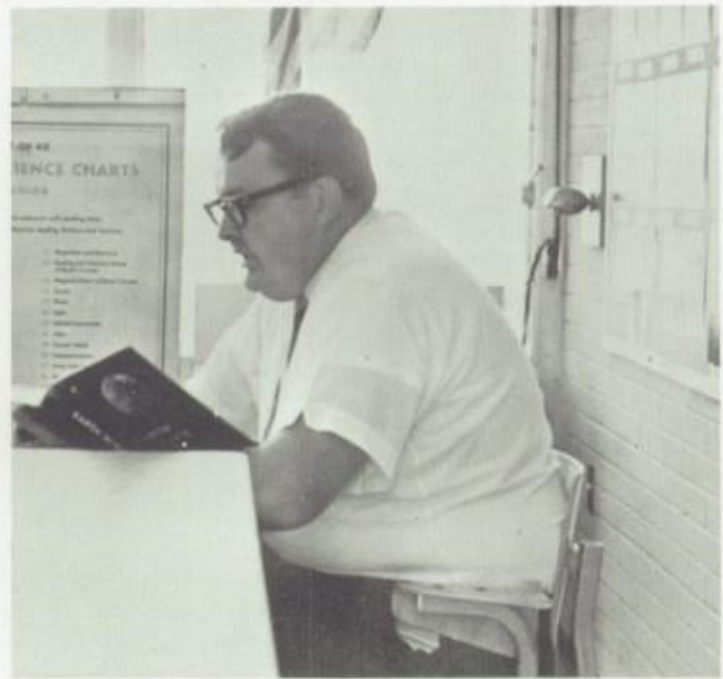

This summer, Mrs. Jacobson, Senior High French teacher, hopes to take a group of students to France.

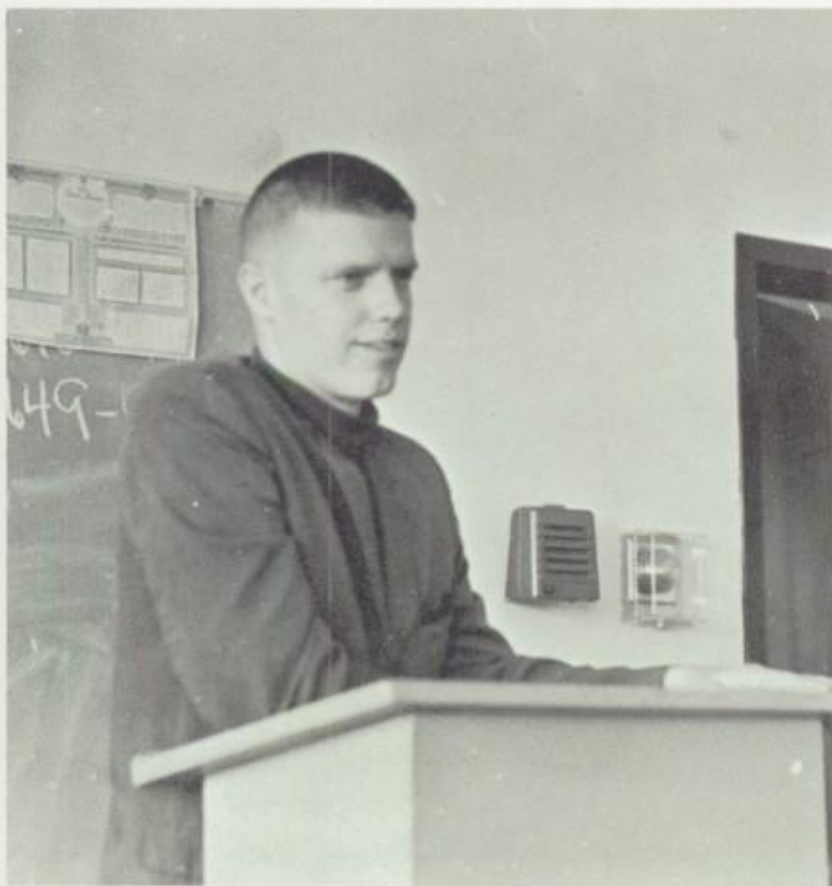

Hobbies Give Teachers Relaxation

An always patient and kind Mrs. Kinsey tells her English class of their grammatical errors.

Mr. Andrew Knight smiles as he explains a principle of science to his science class.

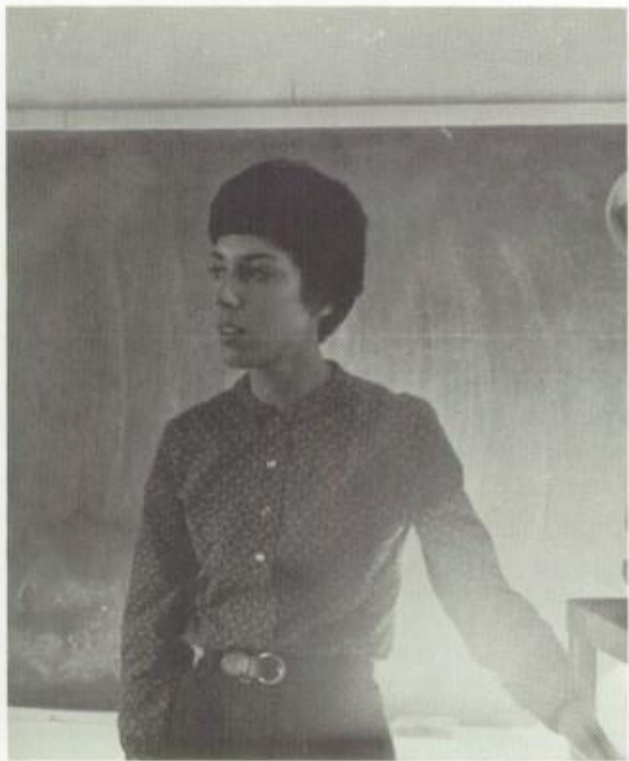

"It's going to be one of those days" sighs Mr. Robert Jacobson after his economics class.

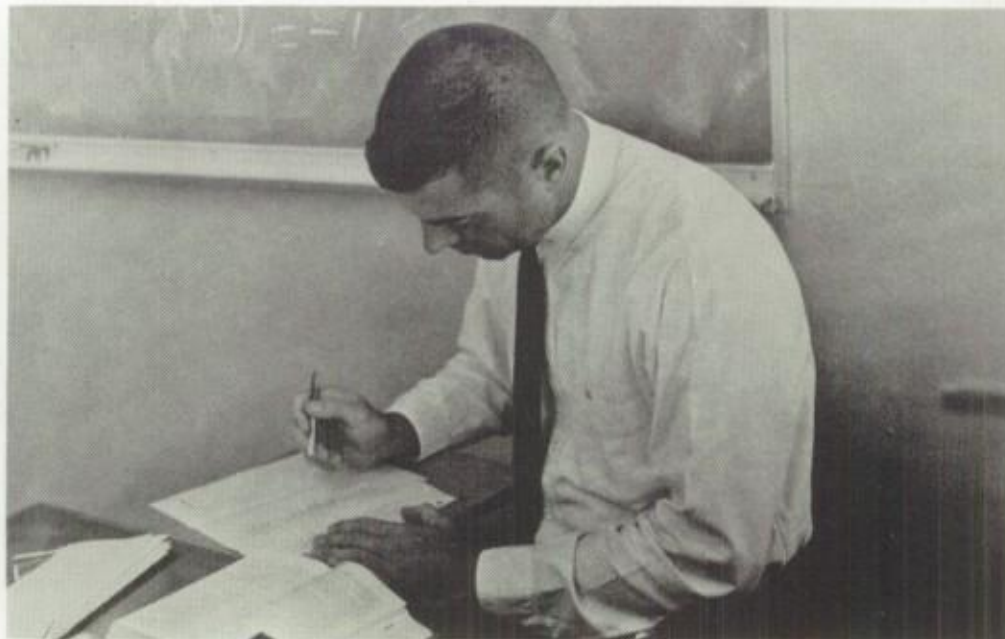

"Practice makes perfect," Mr. June advises his Junior High Spanish class.

Mrs. Virginia Lawless explains a concept of math to her Junior High math students.

Mrs. Lee, Junior High English teacher, patiently waits for test papers to come in.

A look of concentration crosses Mr. Lay's face as he grades some English papers.

A new concept of teaching High School History was introduced this year by Mr. Glenn Lee.

Mrs. Monson, a member of the Senior High faculty, teaches Home Economics.

Mr. James Morris knows that teaching boys' industrial arts is something they can use all through life.

Education Is a Full-Time Job

"Teaching special education," explains Mr. Mungello, is very challenging and rewarding."

Typing is the very useful skill which Judy Faye Mullis teaches at the Junior High.

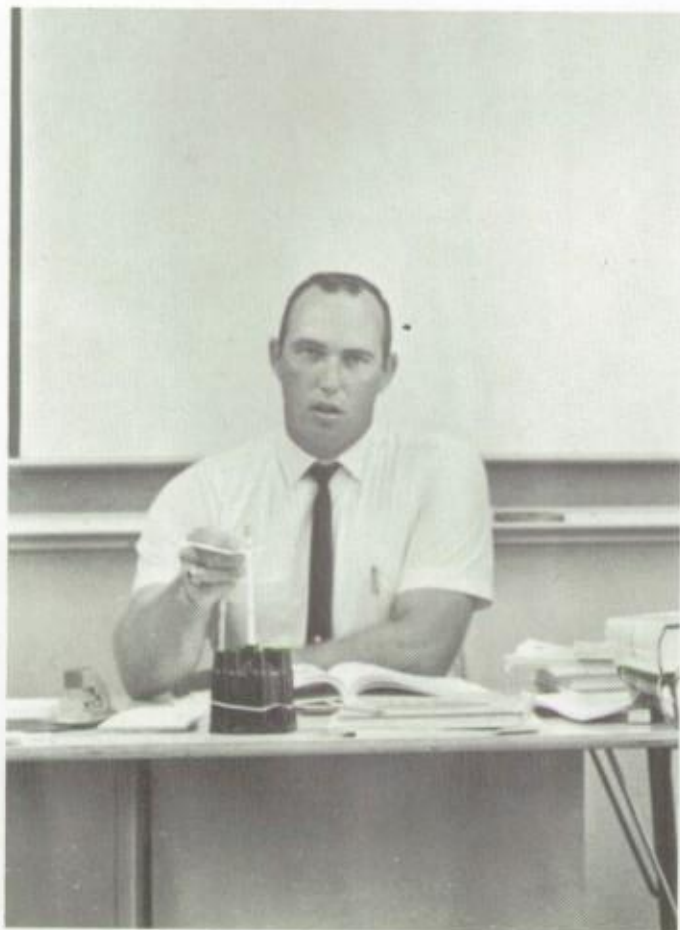

Faculty Offers Guidance

Mrs. Jo Ann Murrell, a teacher at the Junior High, instructs her students in the basics of sewing.

Mrs. Jill Overbey teaches shorthand and typing II for students who would like a career in business.

"You've got to think Spanish," is the advice Mr. Overbey gives to his students.

"Bill, will you please sit down!" warns Mr. Selley as one of his Chemistry I students feels the urge to wander around the room.

Mr. Santello, Junior High physical education teacher, finds volleyball an invigorating sport.

"The history of America is a fascinating story," explains Mr. William Seidel, Jr.

Students listen attentively as Miss Ransom explains the rhythm of a poem to her English class.

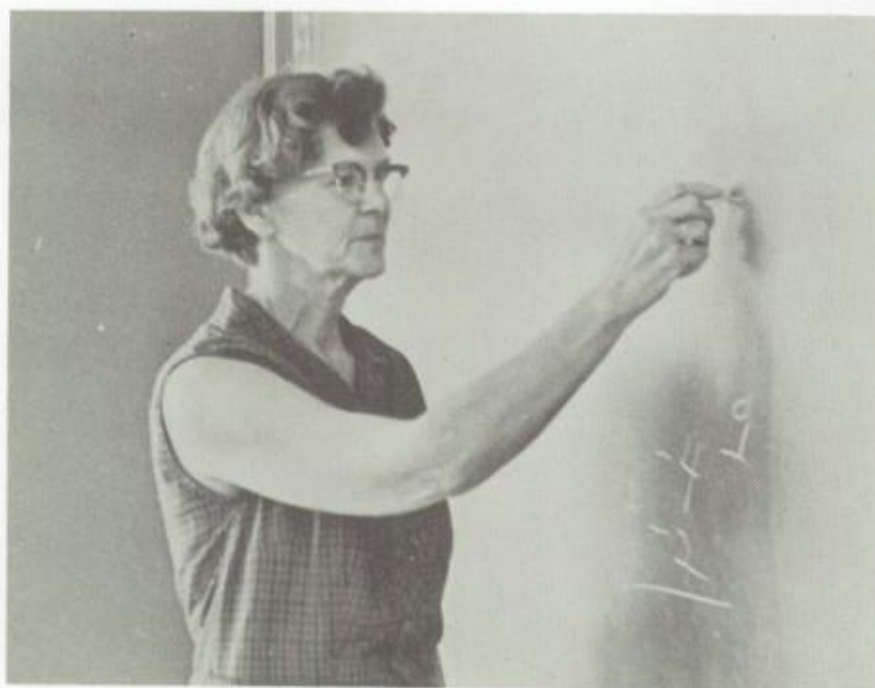

Mr. Charles Rhodes, Jr. encourages his art students to be creative in their work.

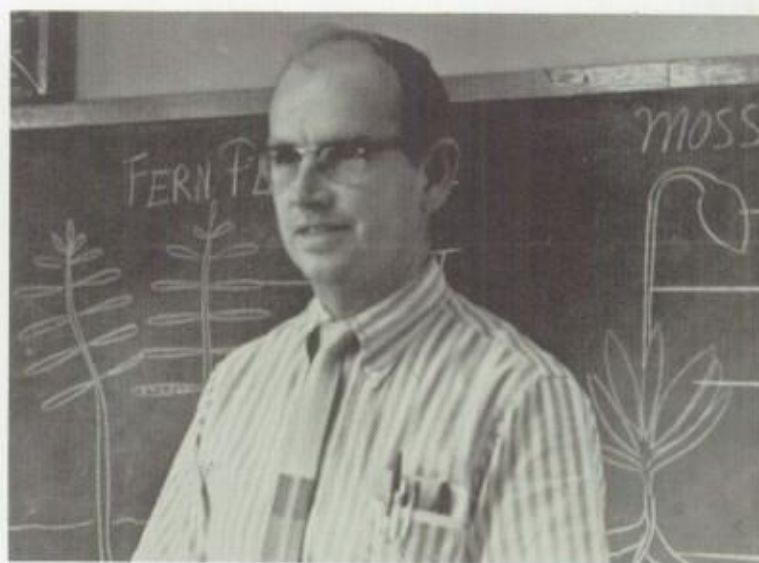

The job of librarian seems to be an enormous job for Miss Johanna Sheehy, but she finds it interesting and challenging.

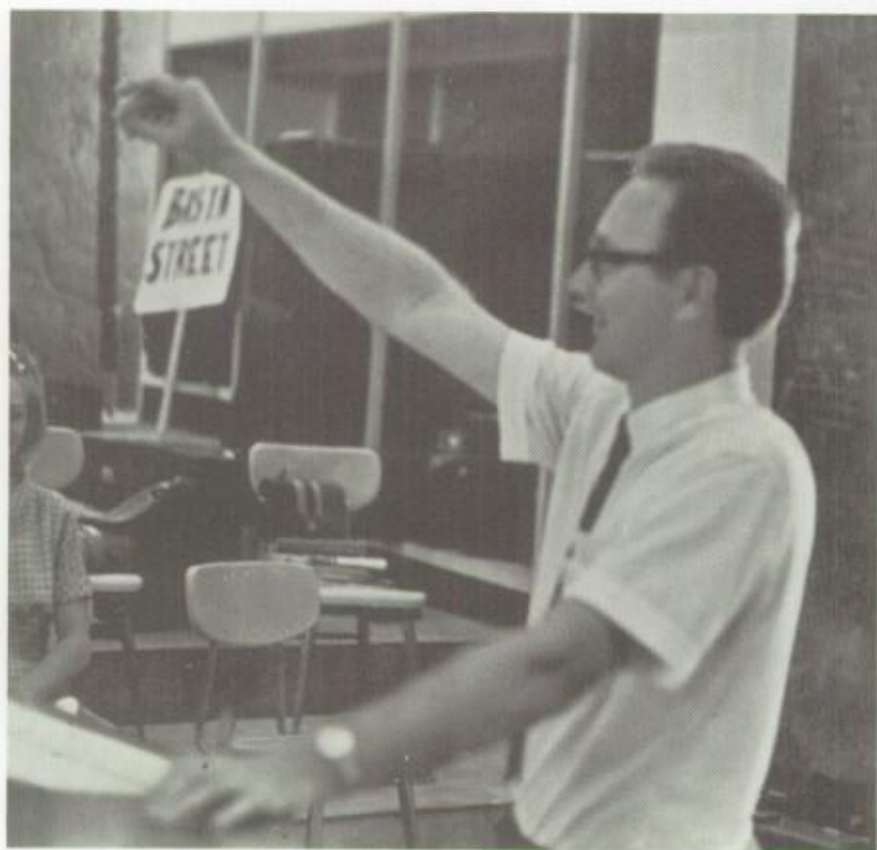

Greatest Strength Is Power

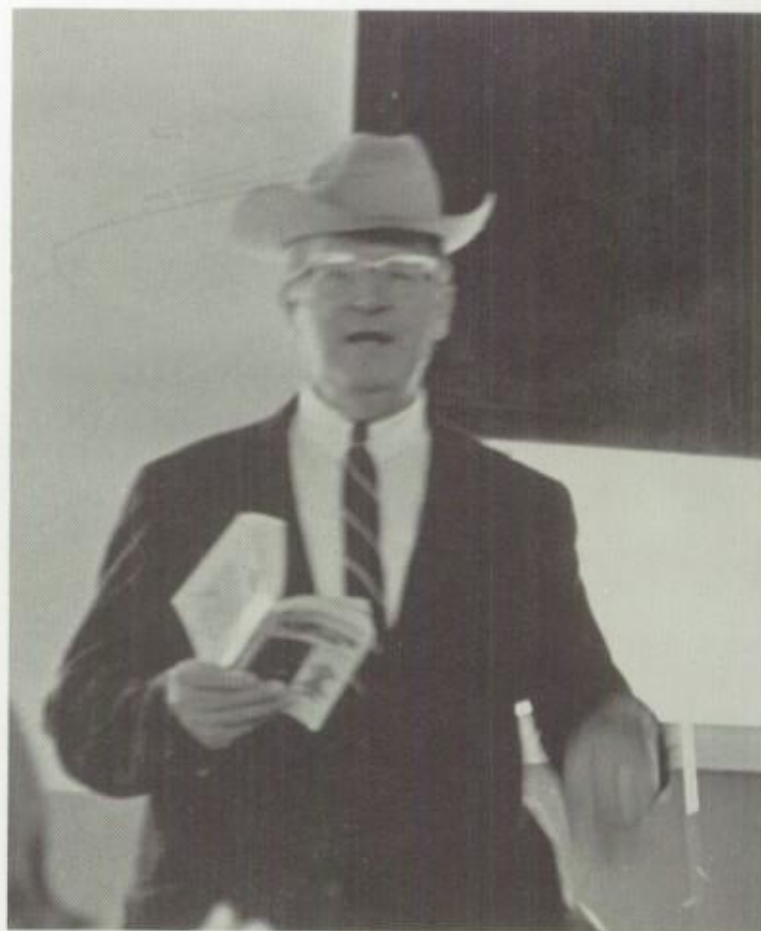

"I use more chalk!" exclaims Mrs. Sloan, Junior High English teacher.

"The rewards of teaching are many," explains Mr. Skipper, Junior High science teacher.

"Now band on the down beat," directs Mr. Stutz, the always calm and patient band director at CHS.

"Now children take out your literature books," laughs Mr. Stabley, CHS English teacher.

to Give Knowledge

Mr. Thomas takes a relaxing walk after a hard day.

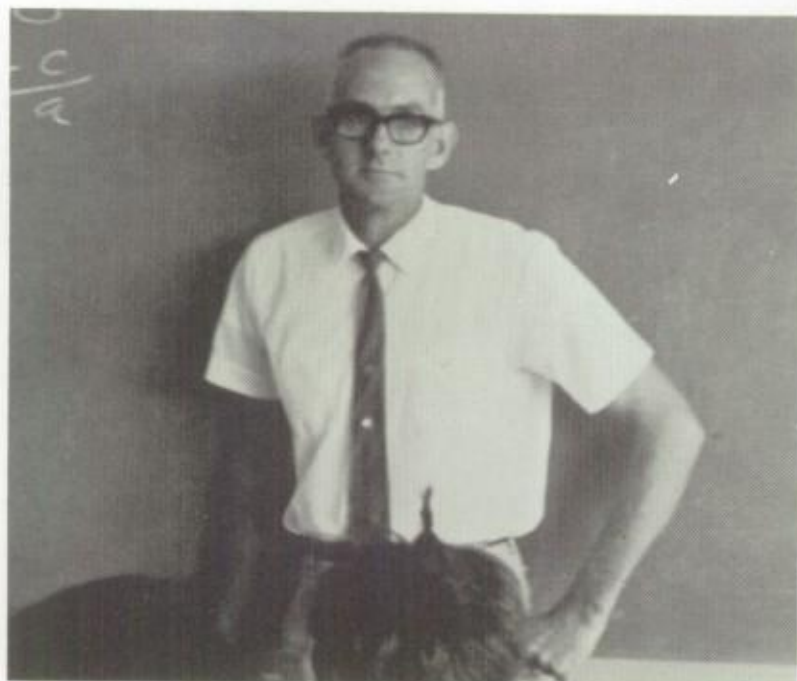

Finding a challenging math problem, Mrs. Beverly Gail Thorp explains it to her class.

Mr. C. Jarrett Thompson, physical education teacher holds his class's attention as he explains the principles of volleyball.

Mr. Fortenberry and Mr. Disler keep CJHS clean.

"Math is fun if you work at it," explains Mr. Walstead, Junior High math teacher.

Miss Suzanne Washington finds that teaching high school business courses is very interesting.

Faculty Encourages Students to be Good Citizens

Mrs. Eleanor Webb strives to make English an interesting as well as useful class.

Smiling, Mr. Yncian happily reflects on the excellent year the Junior High band had.

Dedicated People Work to Better CHS

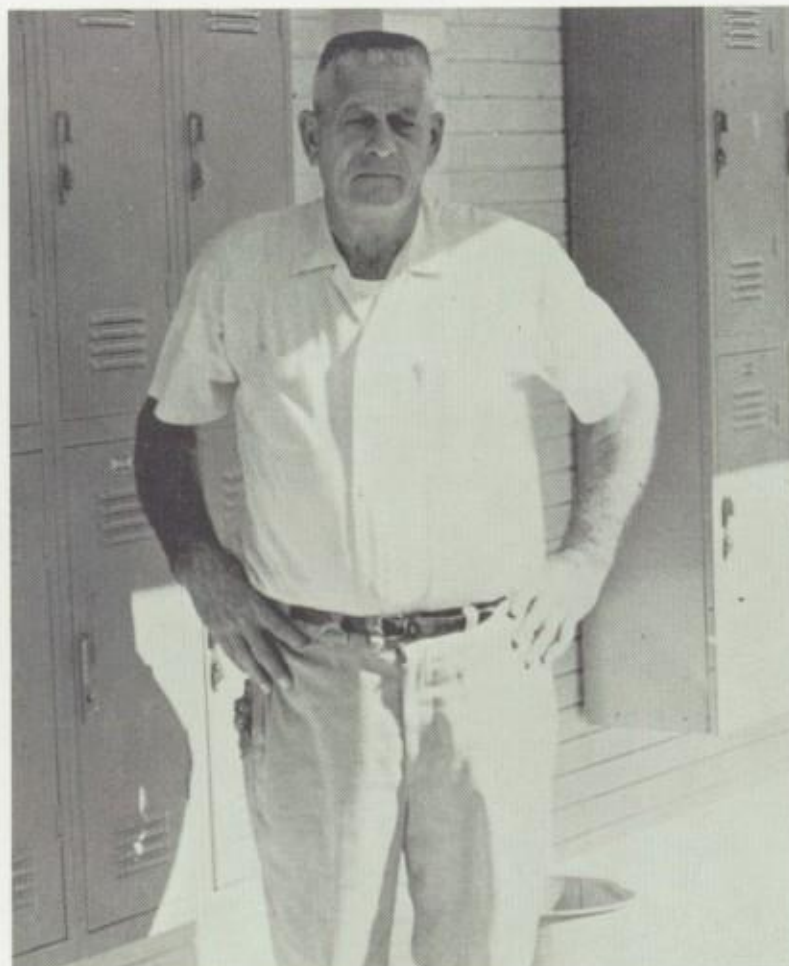

Mrs. Vanek, Junior High librarian explains the Dewey Decimal System to a CJHS English class.

As one of her many jobs, Mrs. Fite, school nurse repairs a torn hem.

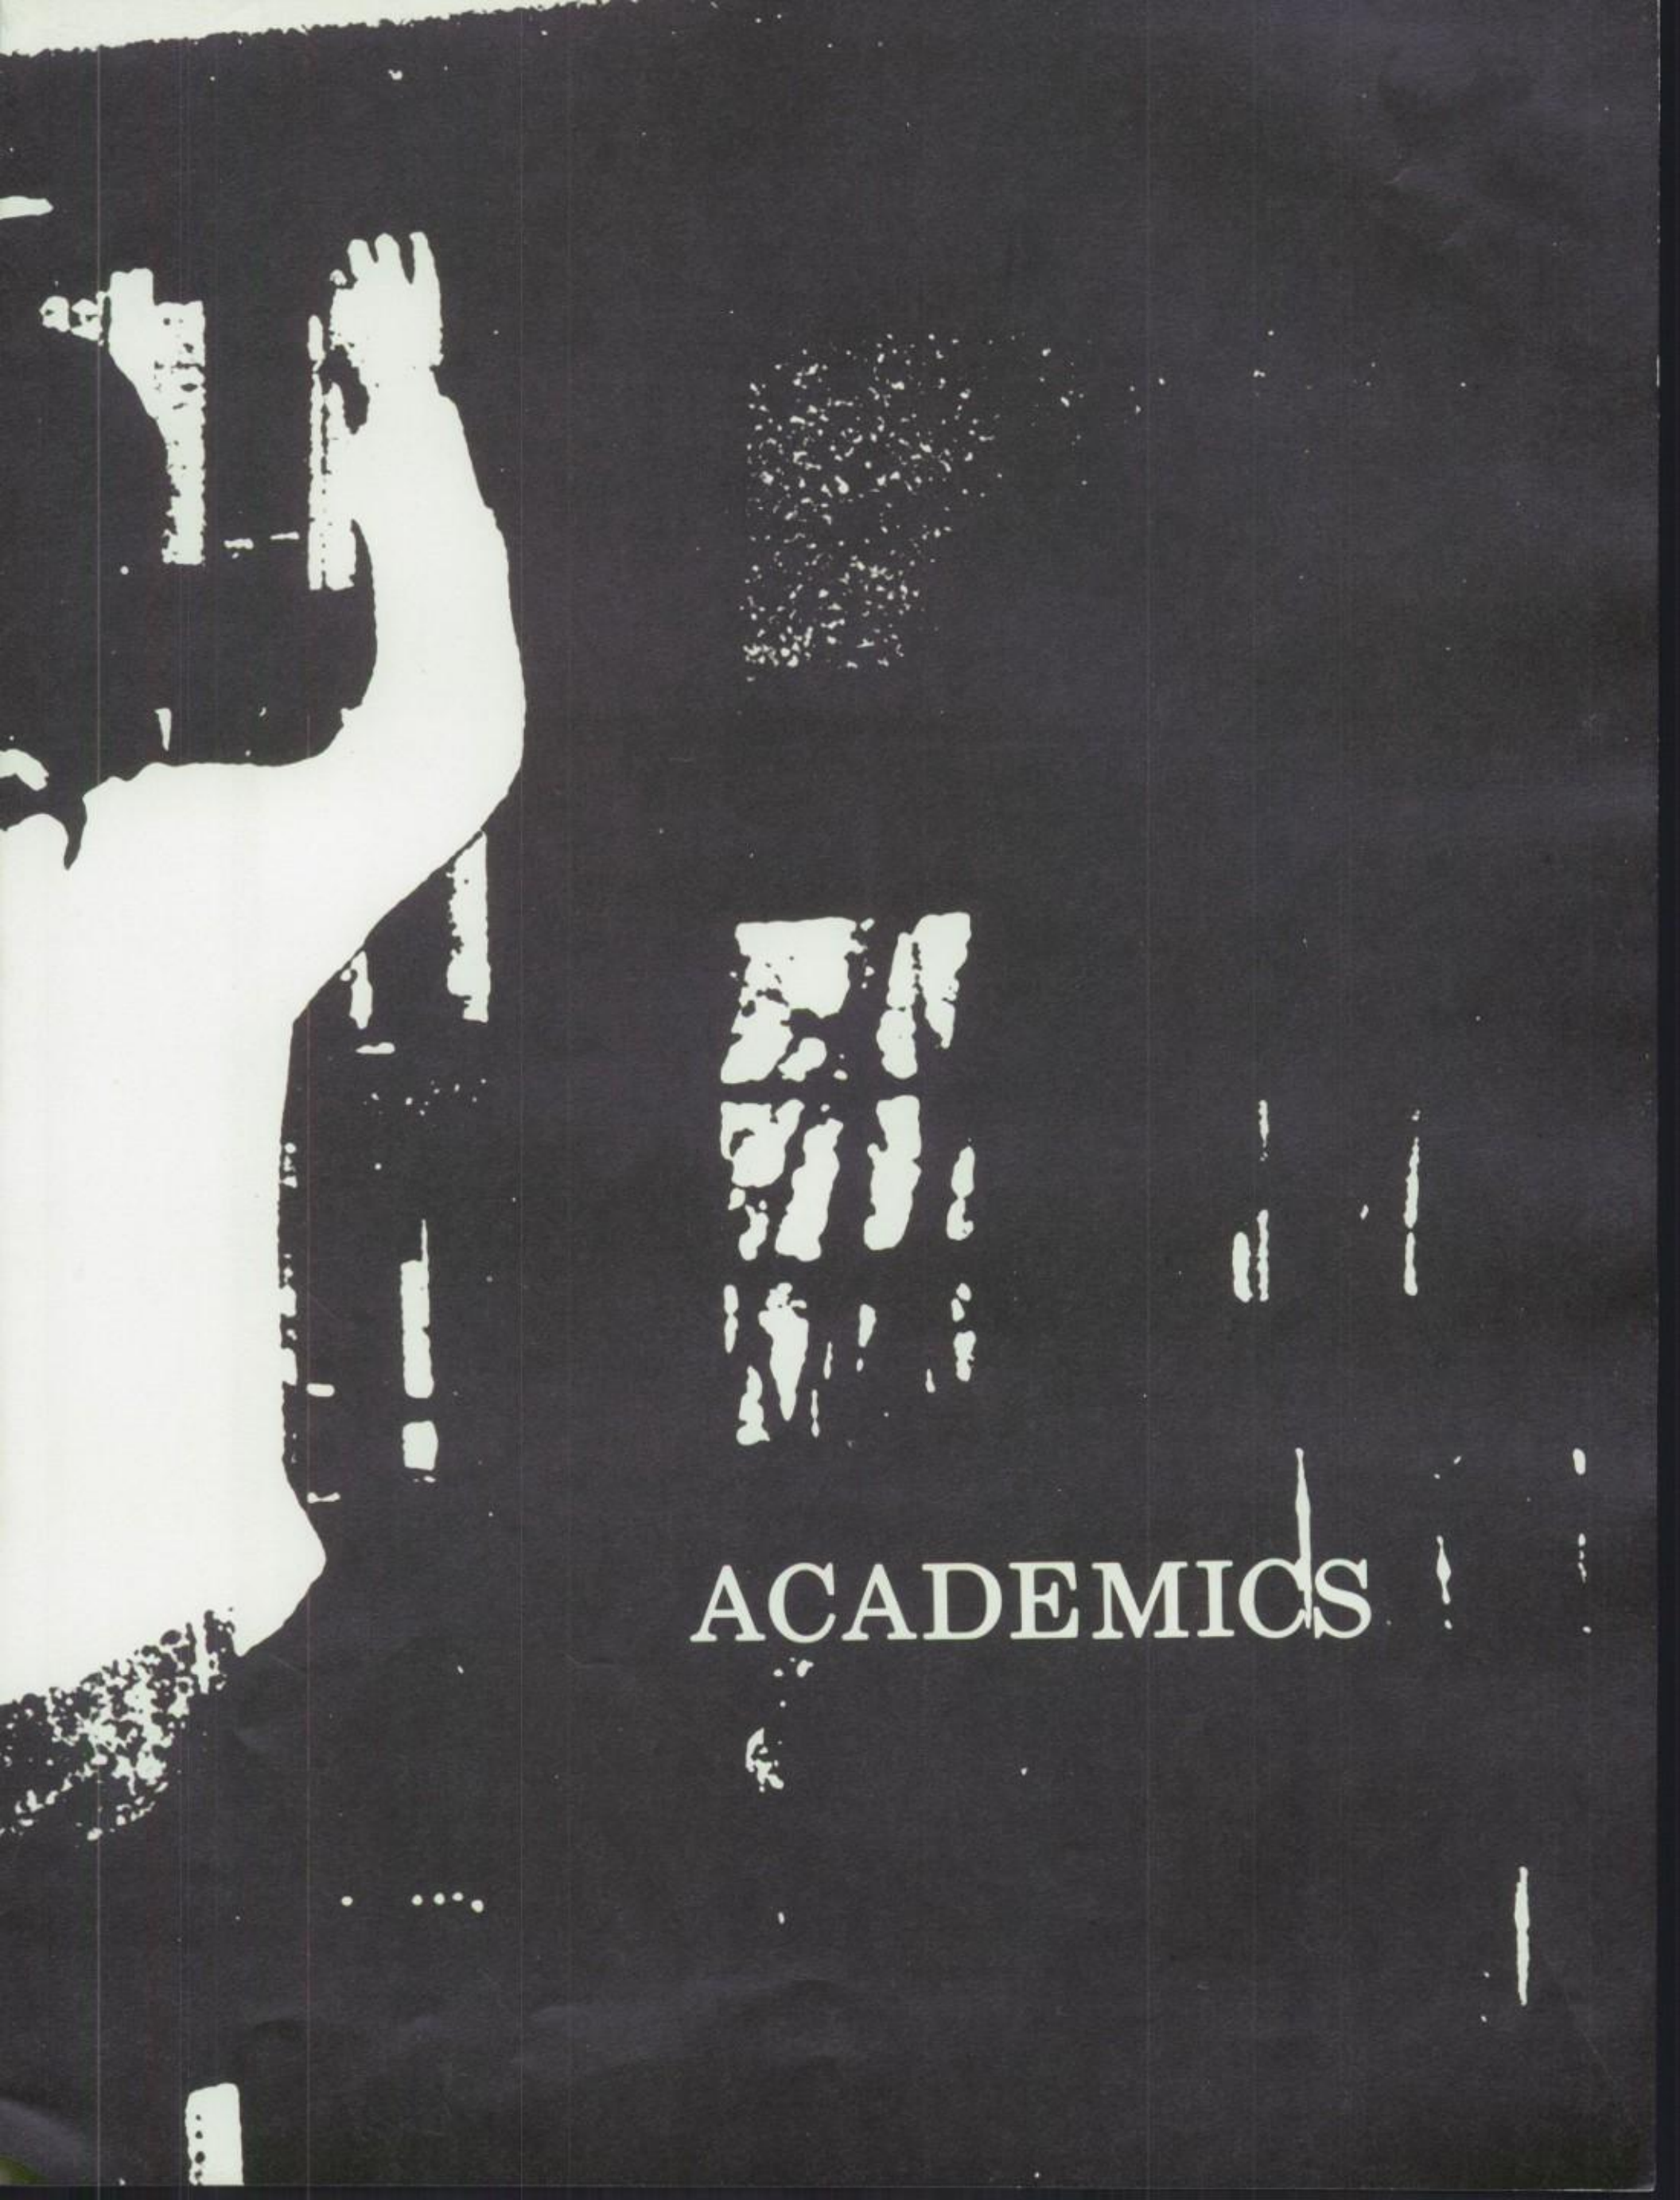

Senior High Janitors; Mr. Carroll, Mr. Quaile, and Mr. Mattison, keep CHS clean and neat.

Mr. Theiss, pauses for a moment.

ACADEMICS

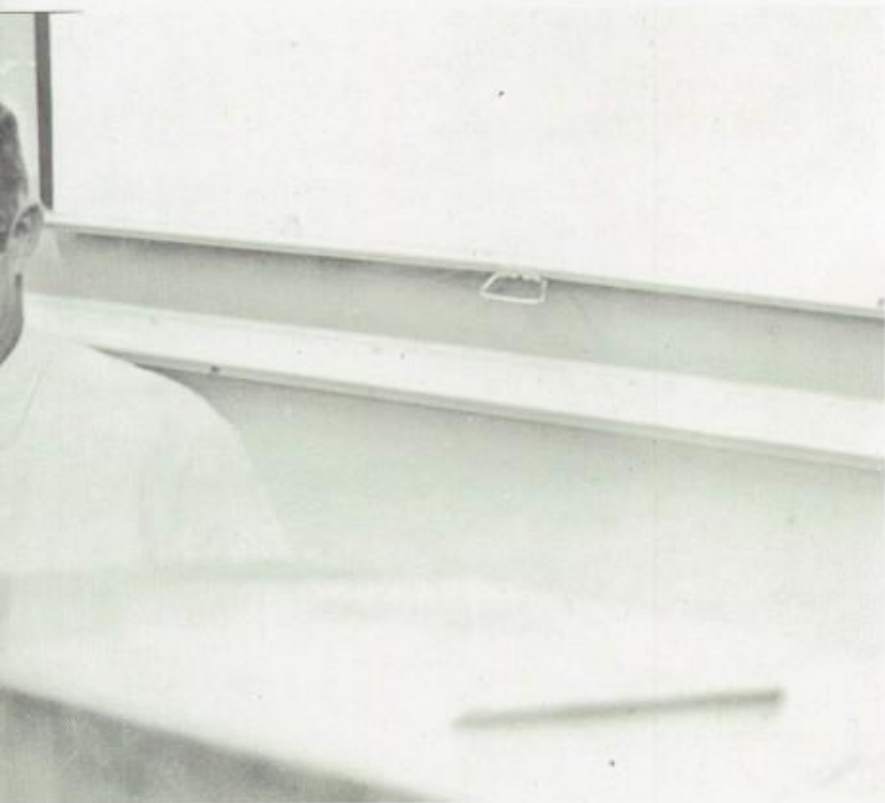

Miss Eaton listens attentively as a student recites Latin to her students.

Language Arts Promote

After watching a French film of dialogue, Mrs. Jacobson repeats and translates the dialogue so the students may

Mr. Overbey chuckles over a student's interpretation of a Spanish noun.

Universal Understanding

learn the correct pronunciation.

The language department at Charlotte Senior and Junior High School offers courses in Latin, French and Spanish; Junior High Spanish was added in 1968.

First year Latin consists of learning verbs and phrases. Second year Latin is the translation of CAESAR'S COMMENTARIES OF GALIC WARS.

The French language is as colorful as its history. The students taking French are very enthusiastic about the French language and culture.

This year the French department purchased dialogue films to broaden the students' knowledge of the language. Some of the students taking French began writing to their pen-pals in France, for knowledge and enjoyment.

Spanish I and II are offered for the high school and in the junior high conversational Spanish is offered. The Audio-lingual method is used for better and easier learning.

Applied Technology Advances Science

Because science is becoming increasingly important in everyday life, all students are required to take a year of science during their high school years to acquaint them with the surrounding world.

Some of the courses offered at C.H.S. include subjects ranging from biology to physics. Charlotte

Junior High offers courses ranging from general science to biology.

The science curriculum has been greatly improved to aid the students. Not only are there the excellent lab facilities to aid the students but excellent teachers as well.

Gary Simonson and Bill Mitchell set up equipment for an experiment with oxygen.

Diane Wilkes observes while Mrs. Johnstone tests for the content of sugar.

Larry Sparrow exhibits the skeleton jokingly as it futilely attempts to escape.

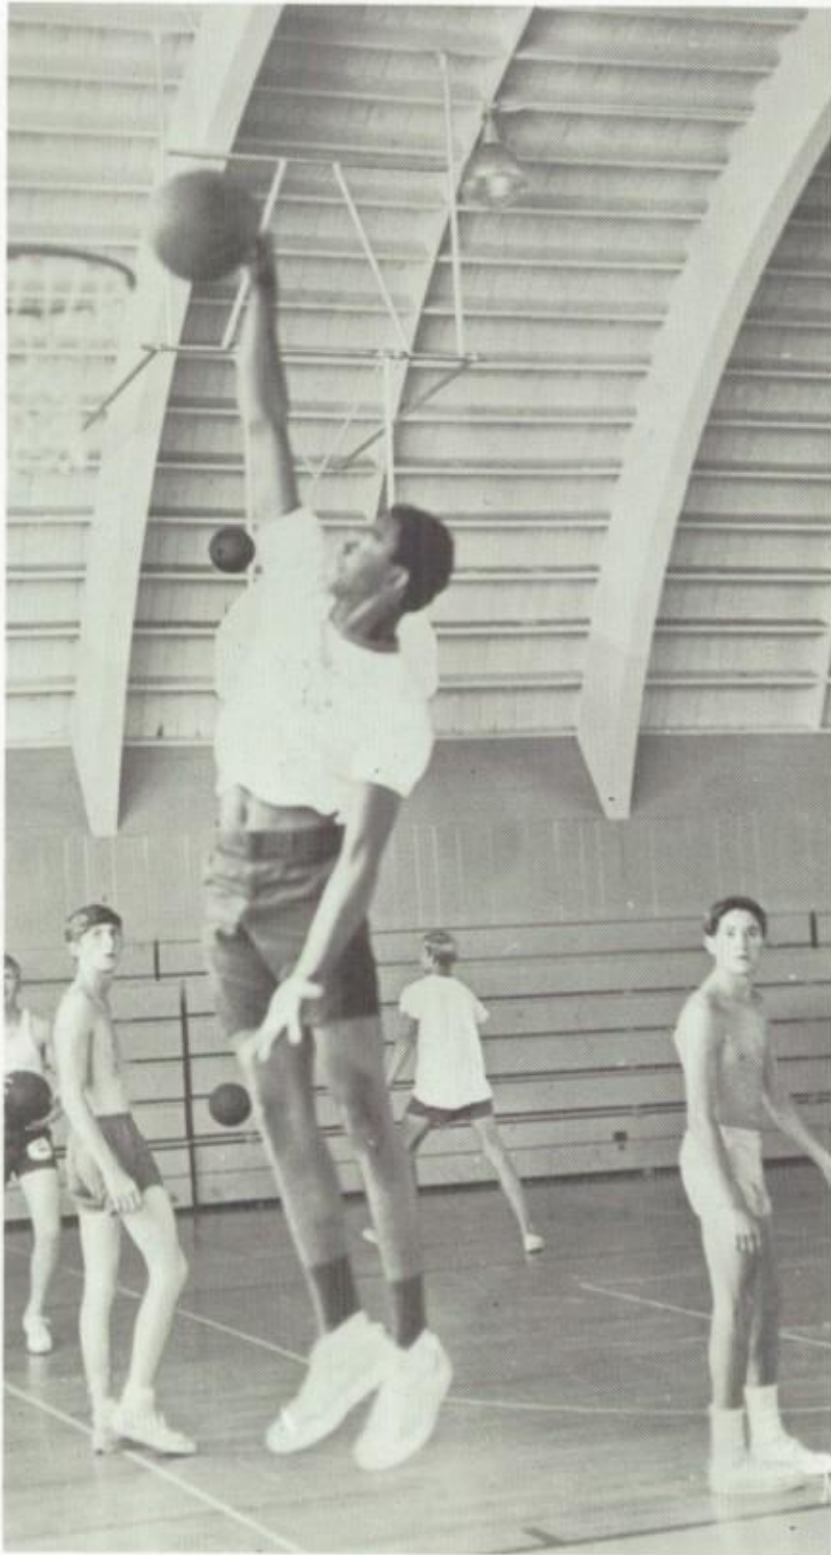

Mr. Gant clarifies the functions of the heart valves by showing his students the plastic model.

Mr. Thomas briefs his Biology class on dissecting procedures for the next lab session.

P.E. Teaches Physical,

While his fellow players look on, Ellison Haddock practices dunking the ball.

Students taking part in the Physical Education program had a chance to develop mentally as well as physically, which many succeeded in doing. Several sports were taught in both senior and junior high schools. They included football, basketball, volleyball, archery, track and field, soccer, and softball and even wrestling.

The Physical Education program of Charlotte High School cooperates with the President's Council on Physical Fitness in Washington, D.C. Students are encouraged to actively participate in all sports events.

Miss Baldwin instructs students on the basics of the difficult sport of football.

Mental Fitness

After using the new Universal Gym Set, junior high boys learn what agony is.

Mrs. Brayton's girls thankfully relax between exhausting games of basketball.

Wide Variety of Math Offered

Due to the necessity of understanding the modern world of today, the Math Department at Charlotte High offers courses ranging from refresher math, for general students, to calculus for the advanced students.

Slides rules, compasses, rulers and protractors are some of the many implements that are used by the students to derive the answers to problems.

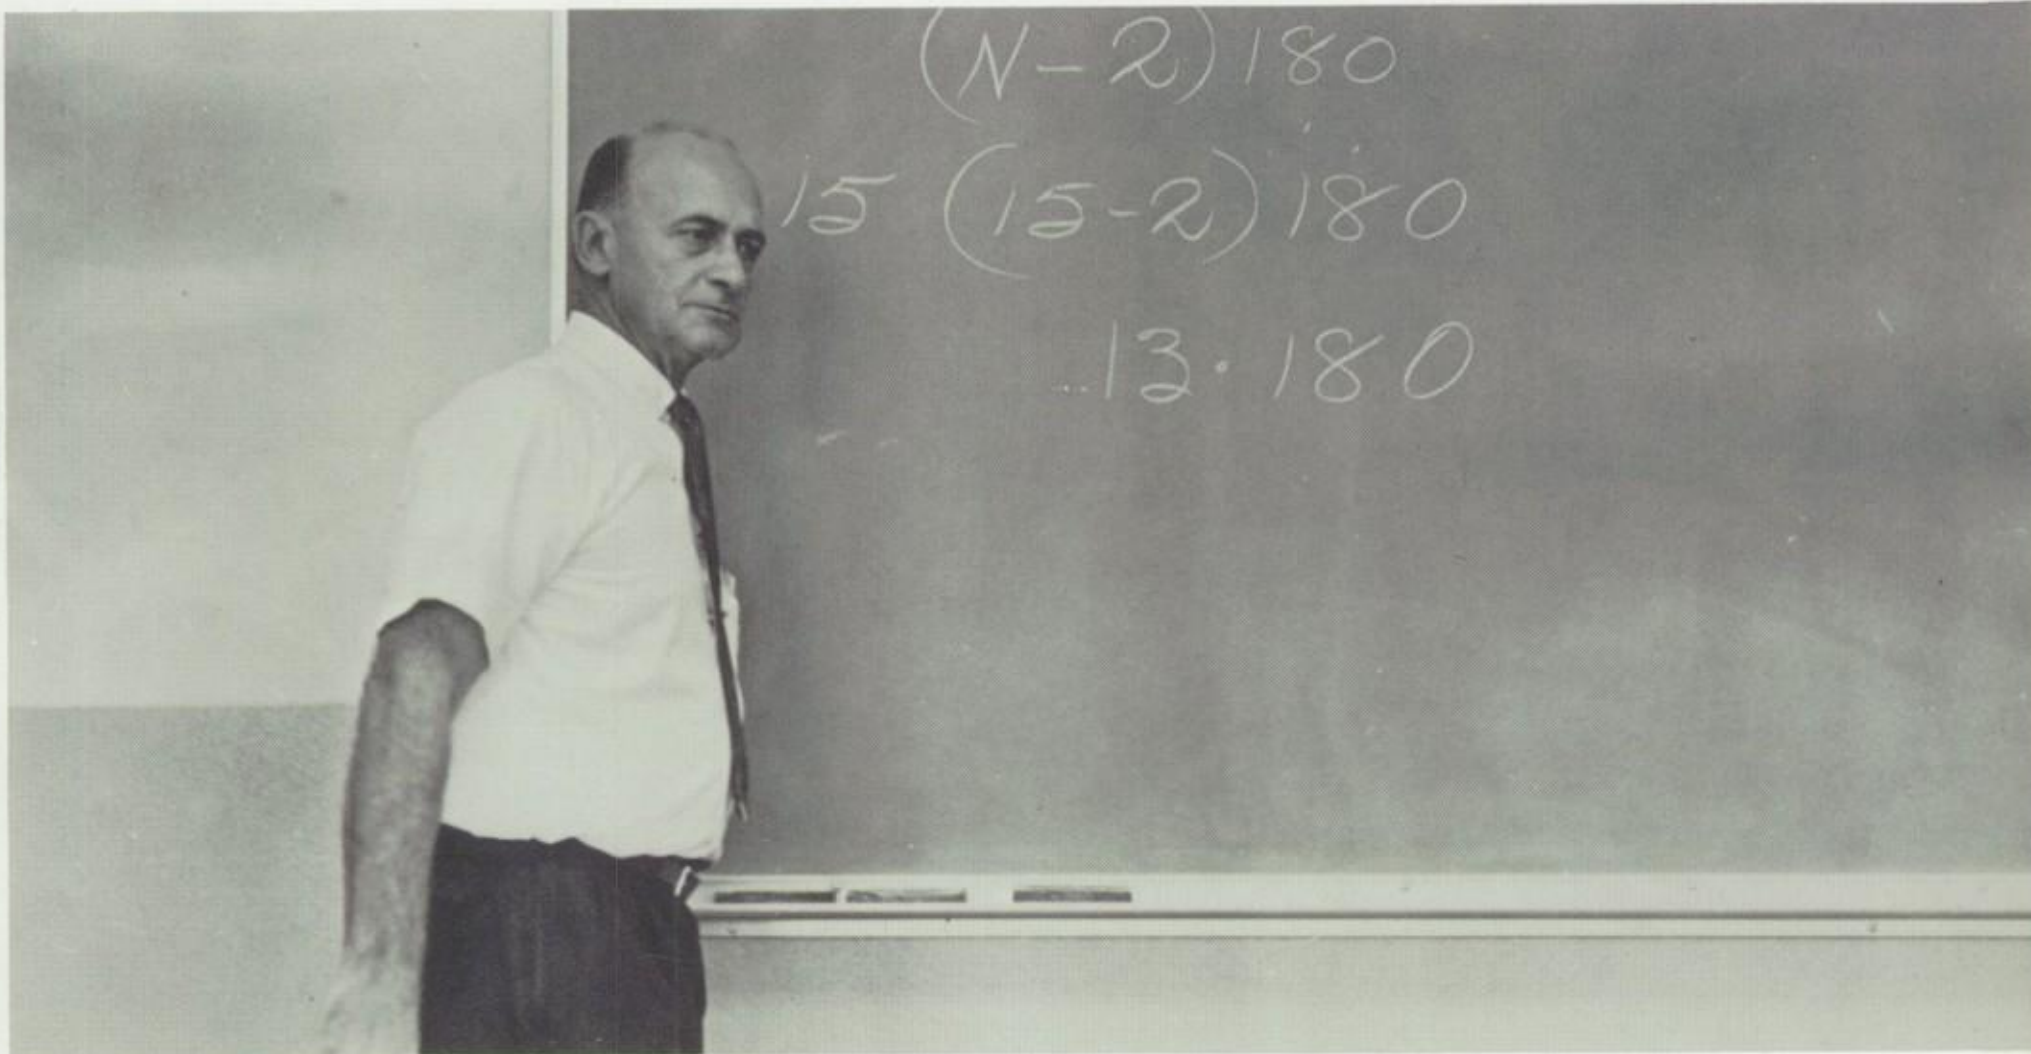

"Don't worry! You'll forget it," warns Mr. Harris.

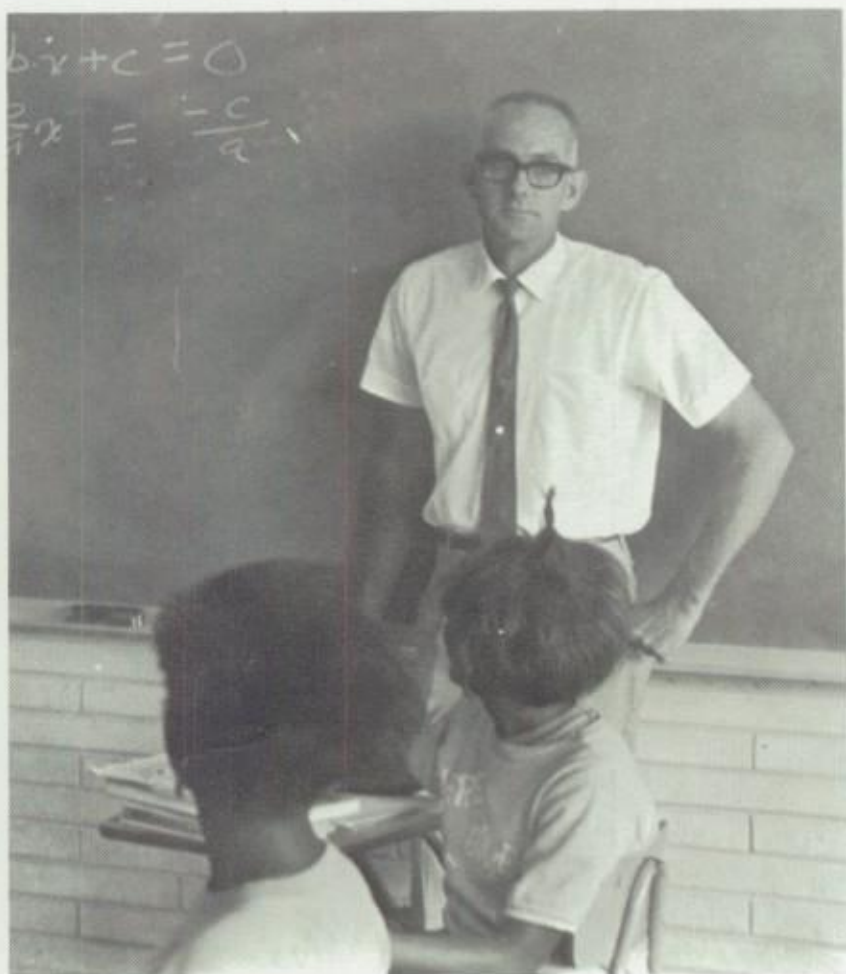

Mrs. Lawless points out that mathematics is not all square.

Mr. Chapman explains a problem to 7th graders.

Mr. Griffin explains that a formula is needed to work a geometry problem.

Mr. Walsted explains the general quadratic equation to his ninth grade algebra students.

Refresher math students work the endless number of problems involved in the course.

New Concept in Learning Used

A new concept of teaching social studies was introduced at both C.H.S. and C.J.H.S. this year. Along with the routine class lessons of the past, the students were given a chance to discuss by formulating and investigating hypotheses dealing human behavior.

The new concept stresses the fact that a student should be able to acquire, order, evaluate, describe, analyze, and predict. The method strives to increase the student's self-understanding and civic-social awareness through a study of the social systems which influenced him and which are influenced by him. It also tried to expand the student's potential by introducing him to alternative patterns of action and thought.

The benefits of this new method will not be known until the results have been studied over a long period of time. This is just one of the many attempts the Charlotte school system has made to improve its curriculum for the betterment of its students. C.H.S. and C.J.H.S. strive to keep up in this modern world by expanding techniques.

Literature Comes Alive for English

Kennith Baker copies definitions from the dictionary.

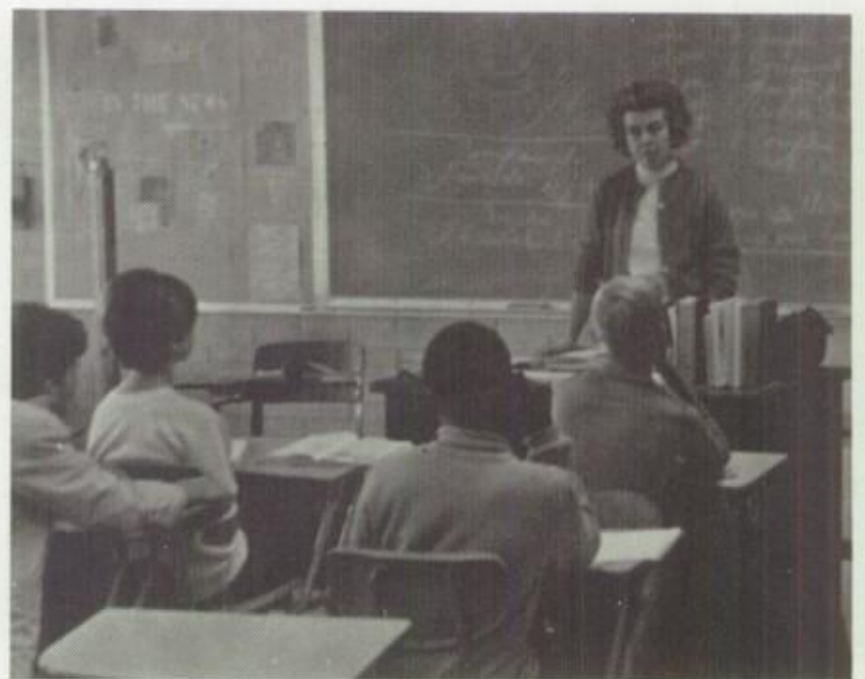

Mrs. Green explains some interesting literature to her

The English department stresses the importance of communicating with the world around us.

The students study poems, plays, novels, short stories, essays, and compositions. They also learn about the many authors who have made contributions to the field of literature.

Filmstrips, movies, records, and tapes are just some of the many devices used to broaden the students knowledge of English.

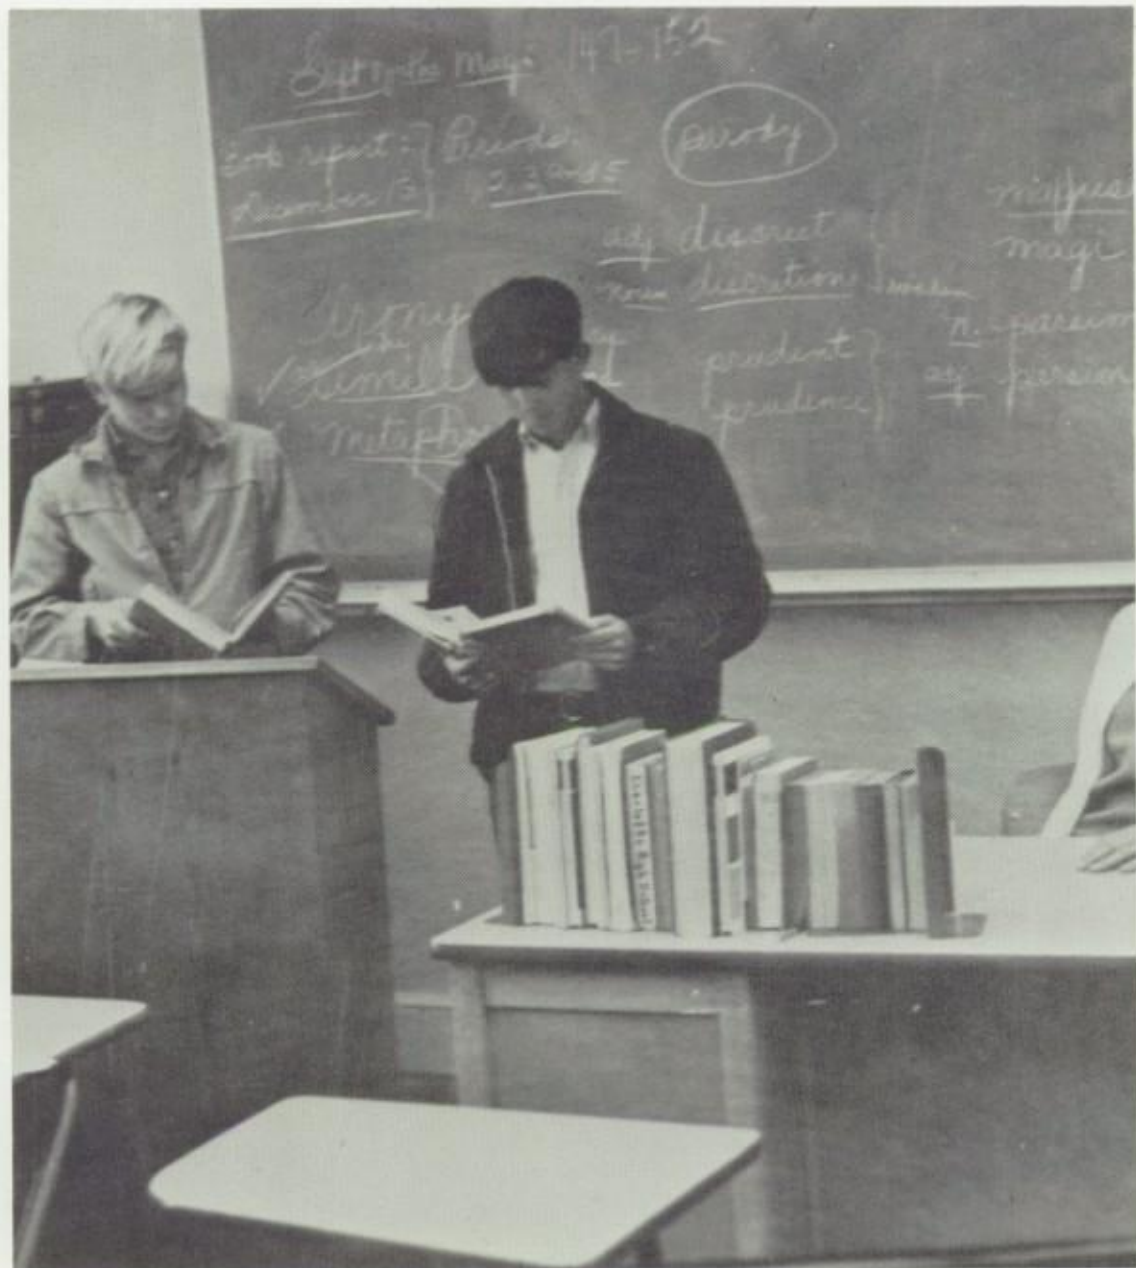

Mrs. Webb makes conjugating verbs interesting.

Students

senior English students.

Sophomores act out Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar".

David Durrance reads a selection from a collection of Edgar Allan Poe's short stories.

The Charlotte High Chorus rehearses for the combination chorus and band concert.

Fine Arts Department Stresses Creativity

Talent and creativity are encouraged by the Fine Arts department. Band, Chorus, and Art I, II, and III are offered by the school.

Many students take art to develop any natural ability they might have. Art students learn the element of design and learn to put it to use.

Band enables a student to participate in many school activities such as playing at football games, pep rallies, and parades. The band gives a concert at Christmas time to which the public is invited. The band has received excellent ratings at district contests.

Students interested in theater can take dramatics through the Thespians Society. Thespians produce at least one play a year. Costuming, production, and direction are done entirely by students in the organization alone. The sponsor serves only as a guide in organizing activities.

Concentration is necessary to achieve creativity, as art students soon discover.

The Hurricane Band puts on an excellent performance at a football game during halftime.

Businessmen Help with D.C.T. Program

Mike McKinney and sponsor Mr. Hardy discuss job openings available to D.C.T. students.

Merchants in the community cooperated with the school to provide Diversified Cooperative Training (D.C.T.) for the seniors of Charlotte High.

Two hours in the morning, were devoted to learning a vocation of the student's choice, and two more hours to subjects that were required. D.C.T. students departed each day at noon to work in various local businesses.

After graduation some of the students go on to college to learn their chosen vocation in more depth. Others stay on with their present jobs, working full-time in the area.

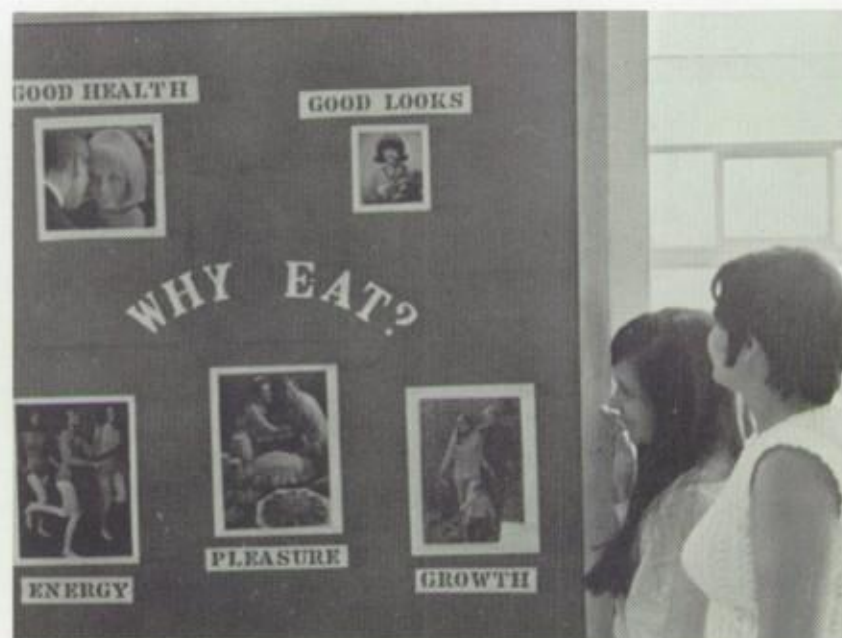

Becky Setliffe prepares to give a speech.

Practical Arts-Plans for the Future

Driving with efficiency, learning how to parallel park and learning the traffic laws are just some of the many different lessons taught in the Driver Education Program at Charlotte High.

Home Economics and Modern Family Living give the girls a chance to acquire knowledge they will put to use later in their lives when they become housewives and raise families.

Through shop the boys learn to work with woods and metals. Electricity is studied by high school shop students as is auto mechanics.

ORGANIZATIONS

The members of the Junior High chorus entertain the student body and faculty at the Christmas assembly. Mr. Stutz, the director, supplies the accompaniment on piano.

Chorus Gains Experience

The chorus works on a new song with Mr. Stutz accompanying them on the piano.

Under the direction of Mr. Stutz, the Junior High chorus gained valuable experience learning basic music theory and performing in the Christmas assembly. Many of the students will carry their knowledge and enjoyment of music into high school and throughout their lives.

Along with singing for enjoyment, the chorus members were taught the intricacies of music structure. They were also taught the history of music up to the modern rock sound.

FHAers Attend District

Nancy Gaskill puts the finishing touches on a cake she baked during her homemaking class.

The Future Homemakers of America organization endeavors to promote a deeper interest in the art of homemaking. Since most girls will eventually have the responsibility of maintaining a household, such skills as cooking, sewing, and money management are stressed.

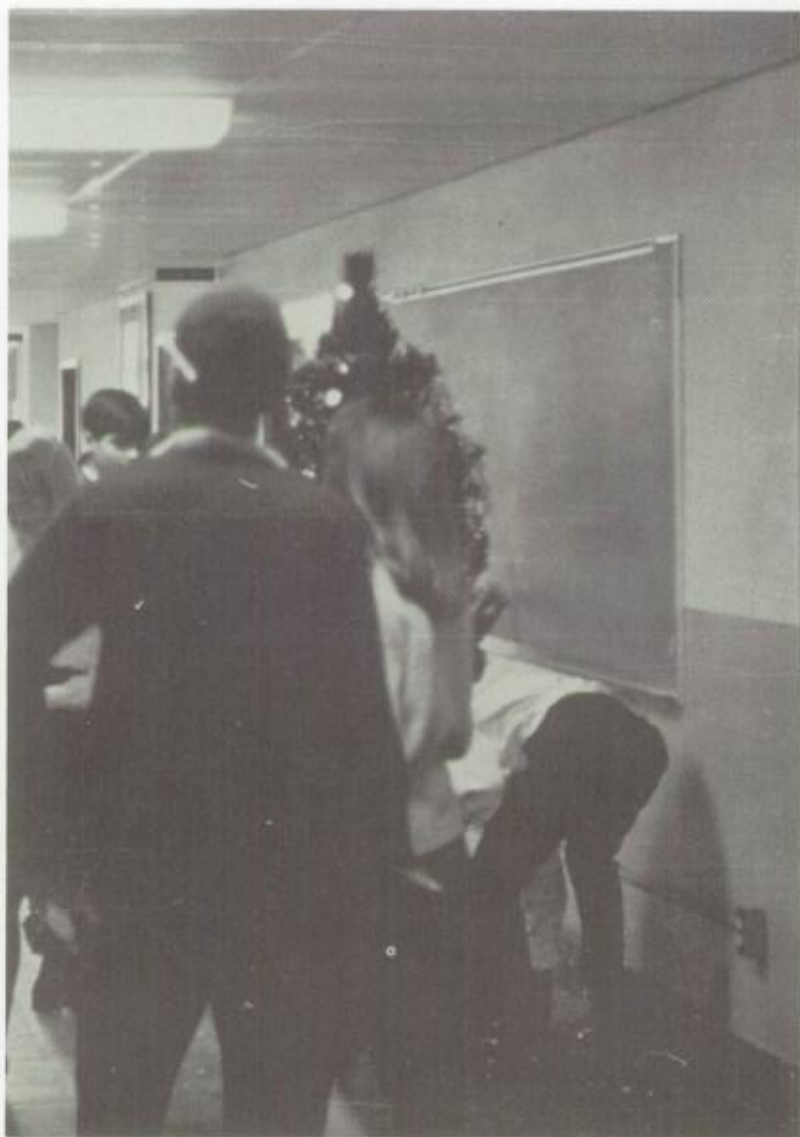

The members attended the district meeting at Plant City. They also sold cookbooks to raise money for the scholarship they give to a worthy senior girl who has excelled in homemaking.

Members of Future Homemakers of America include Linda Utley, Dale Taylor, Connie Goff, Linda Bird, Nancy Gaskill, and Mary Fraker.

Student Council Plans Activities

A legislative body, Student Council acts as a link between the administration, faculty, and the student body. Representatives from the home rooms and clubs attend the meetings, present and discuss pertinent issues, and vote on them. Another job is to co-ordinate the activities of the various clubs. Some of the projects handled by the Student Council, included operating the school store, Orientation Day, co-ordinating Homecoming Week, and Boy and Girl of the Month.

Decoration of the main hall for Christmas turned out to be more fun than work.

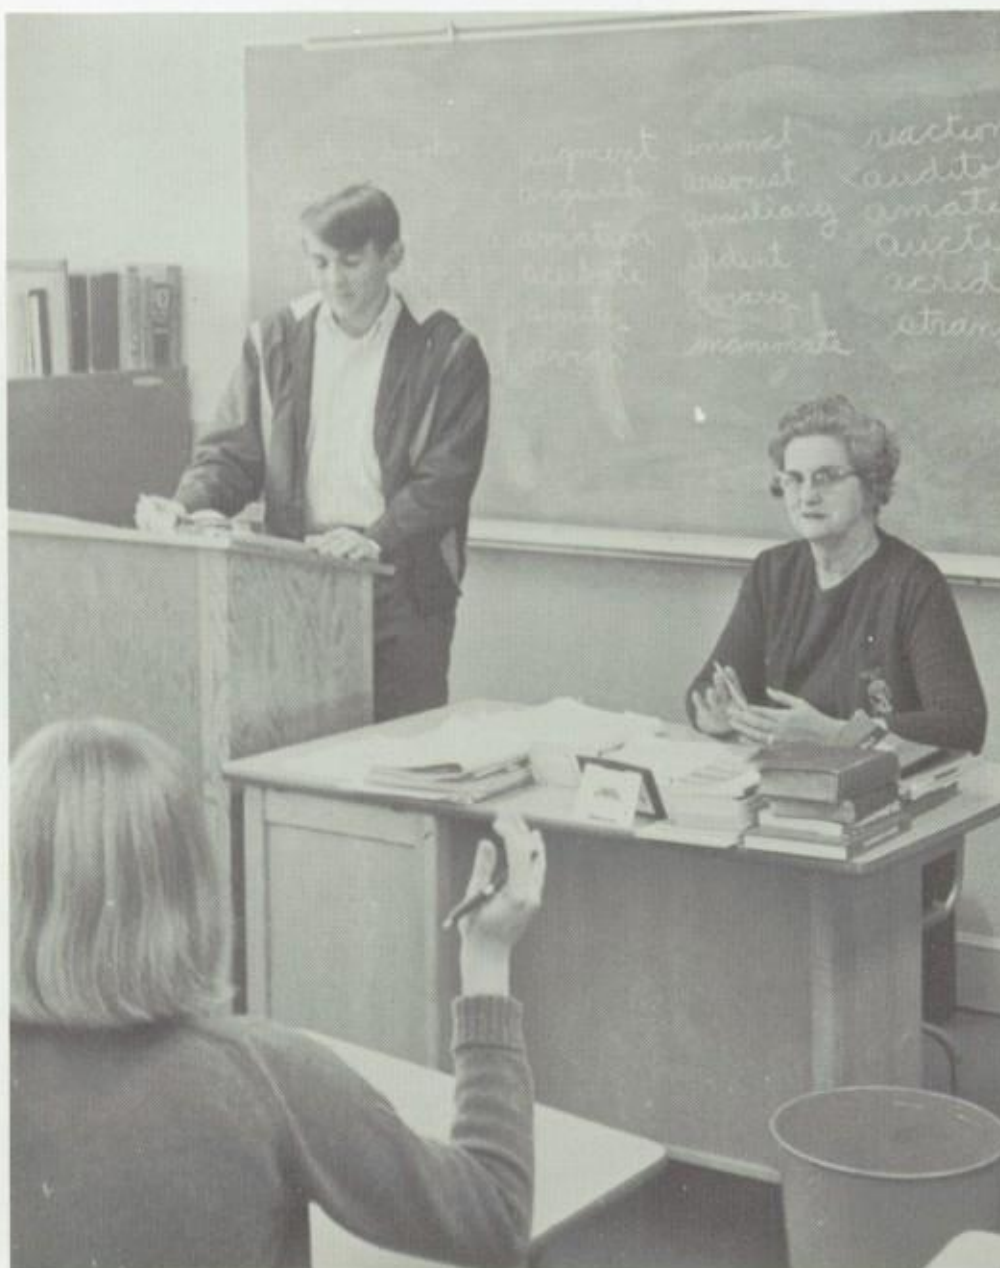

Members of Student Council include (first row) Janet Brod-Kaye, Carolyn Peeples, Kay Persons, (Second row) Connie Shakeshaft, John Hathaway, Brian Collette, and Suzanne Chorus this year was very active in school affairs as well as community affairs. After they held a concert at the Cultural Center in Port Charlotte, the ensemble performed at the Christmas assembly held in the High School auditorium.

Also the Annual Spring Concert was held. The music of the chorus ranges from classical to jazz to the more modern type of song.

Donna Koon accompanies the chorus in various numbers.

The Chorus sang "Silent Night" during the Christmas assembly.

Girls Develop Skills in GAA

Two GAA members go high in the air to contest a jump ball.

Mrs. Brayton gives the girls a few pointers on basketball during their weekly meeting.

Girls Athletic Association, is for the girls who are interested in the different sports and activities in the P.E. program.

Some of the sports offered are trampoline, basketball, football, and volleyball. GAA gives the girls a chance to advance their skills and play under good conditions.

These are the members of this year's Block "C" club. The organization gains recognition for Charlotte Junior High sportsmen and promotes sports in the school.

Block "C" Promotes Sports

All athletes and cheerleaders who have lettered in Junior High sports become automatic members of Block "C". As their major project the club sponsored the Miss CJHS contest. During the annual Christmas dance, Sherry Sheene was crowned Miss CJHS. Every member of Block "C" worked hard to make the dance a success.

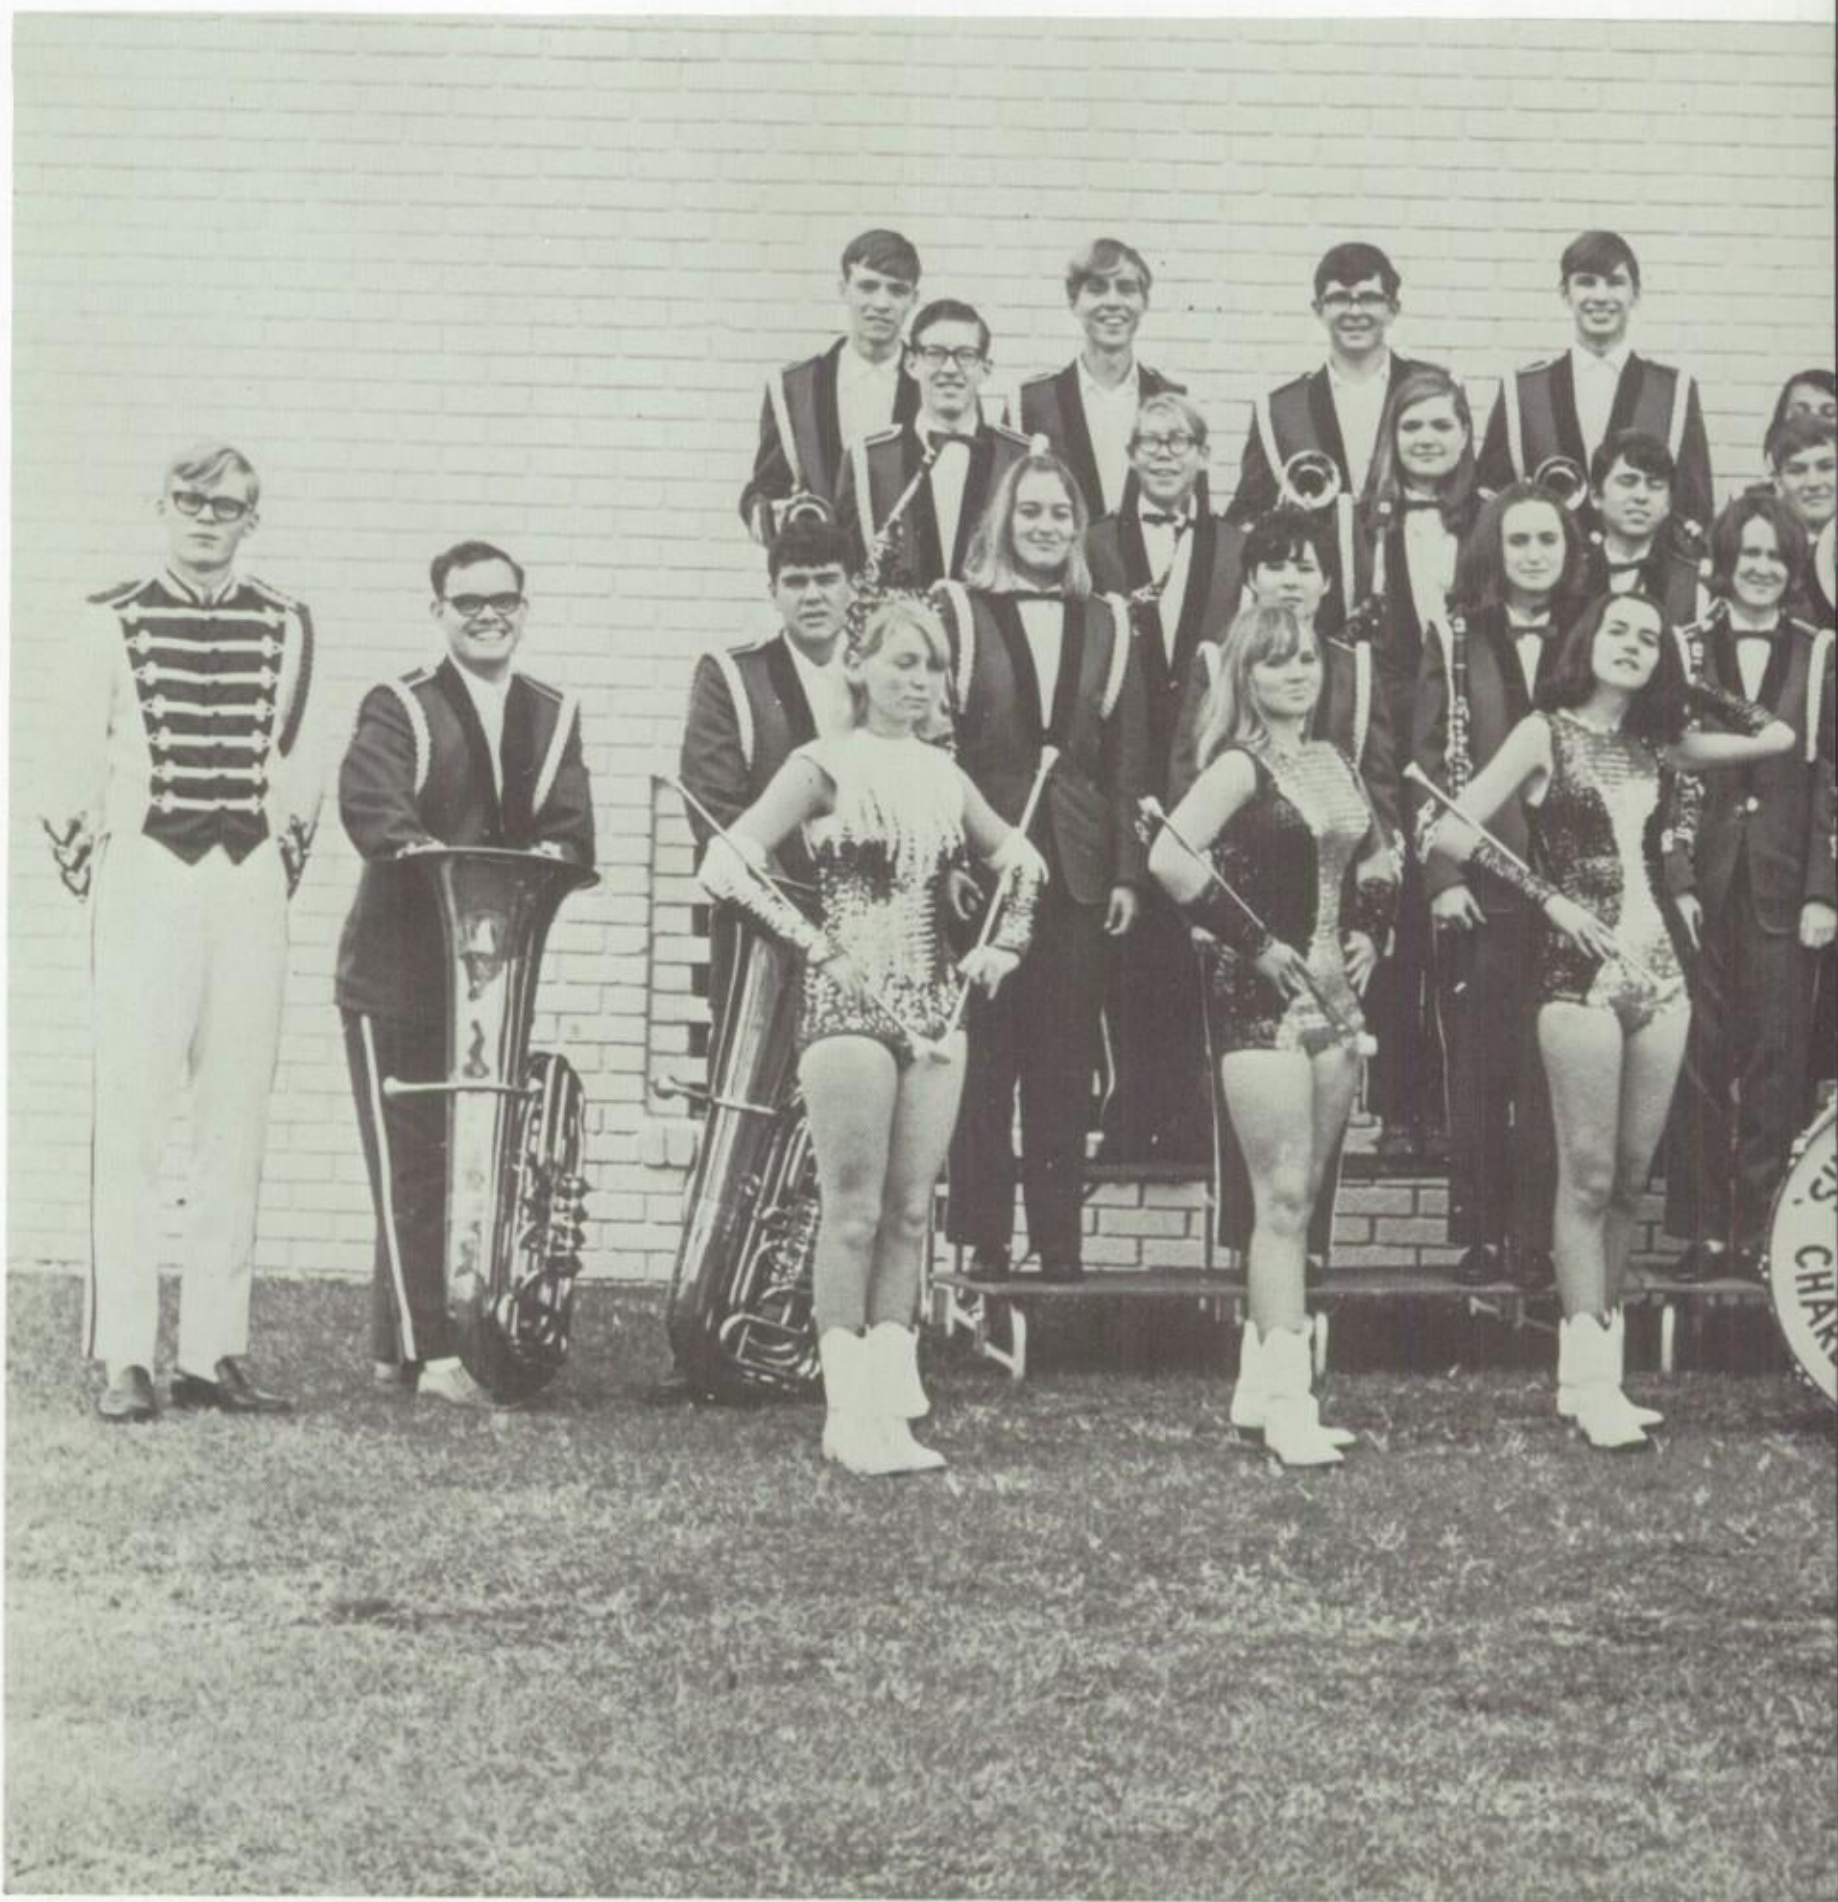

Mr. Holt, sponsor of Block "C", receives an award from Mr. Ralph Carter on the behalf of Junior High athletes.

Officers of Block "C" are Harold Weaver, president; Barb Durrance, treasurer; John Doyle, vice president; and Peggy Keen, secretary.

Charlotte High School's Silver

Annual Staff Works Overtime

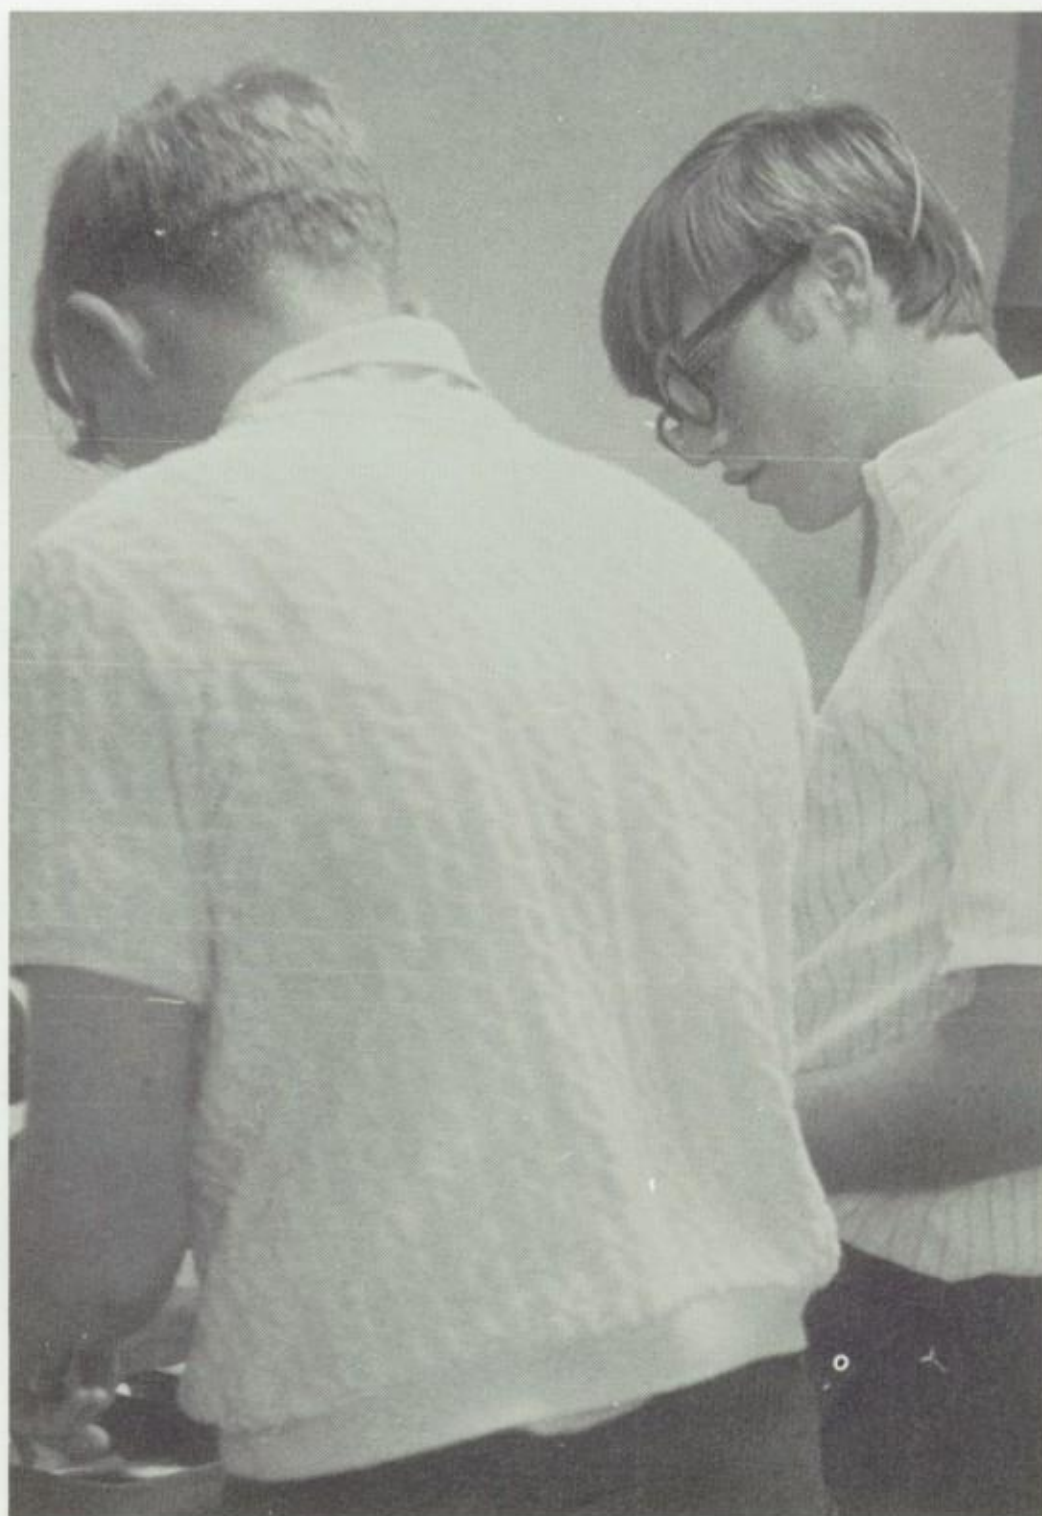

The Tarpon '69 annual staff has put in a hard year frantically trying to meet deadlines and racking their brains for new ideas. The staff members have also spent many hours outside of school, as well as in school, working on the annual.

The annual staff was a completely inexperienced, but determined group of Juniors and Seniors. They raised money to pay for the annual by selling advertisements, yearbook subscriptions, and finally when the account ran low they sold beanies in school colors and an all-purpose cleaner which proved to be quite popular.

The 1969 staff also sponsored the traditional Miss CHS Contest, although there were a few changes added, this year the assembly and crowning were set around the theme of St. Valentine's Day.

Staff members work hard on the Tarpon.

Gordon Taylor and Len Host develop film in the dark room for the 1969 yearbook.

Silver King Band Entertains

Brenda Richardson, solo twirler, performs during halftime.

Adding excitement to the Band's performances are Brenda Richardson, Mary Jacobs, Sandy Simpson, Diane Garbart, Cathy Carle, and Anna Jean Johnson.

The Band completed a very successful year. During football season their colorful and exciting performances added much to spark up feeling.

The addition of a drum major, Tim Bachmann gave the band extra leadership at football games and parades. This relieved some of the many duties which Mr. Stutz had to attend to.

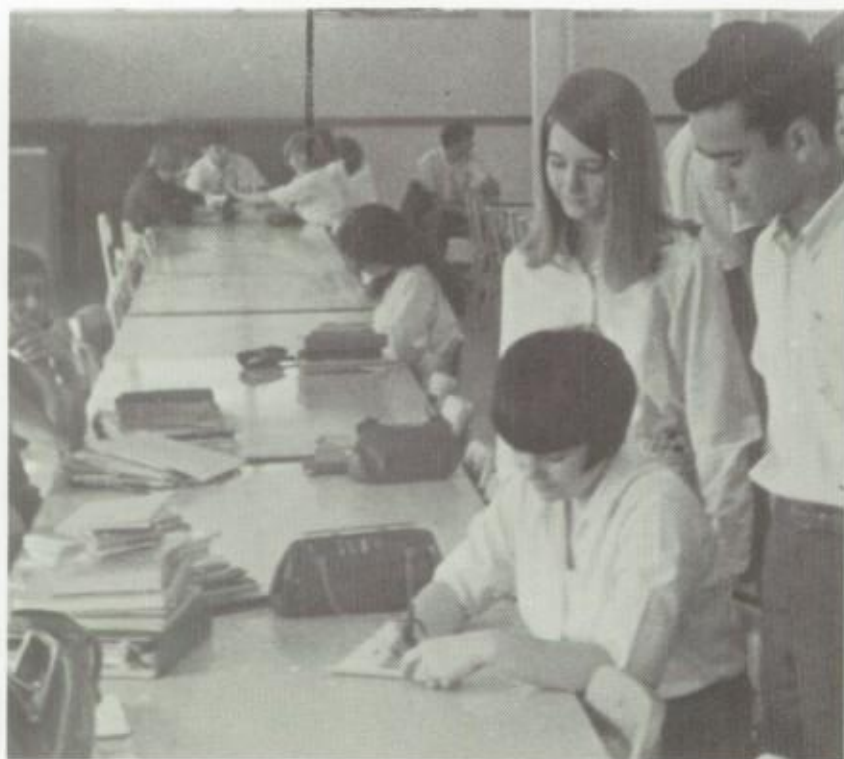

Directed by Mr. Stutz, the band put on an excellent performance at the district marching contest in Ft. Myers. The band also made a fine showing at the district concert contest.

Along with the newly formed Cheerblock, the band did their part in adding to the new spirit of CHS. The "Pep Band", volunteers from the regular band, played at home basketball games while the Cheerblock performed hand rhythms to the music. Their support was greatly appreciated by all.

Paulette Amberg and Ruben Nuguera order jewelry from Virginia Dye.

Terry Knecht and Cheryl Dawson assist Mrs. Hummel in stapling the student directory together.

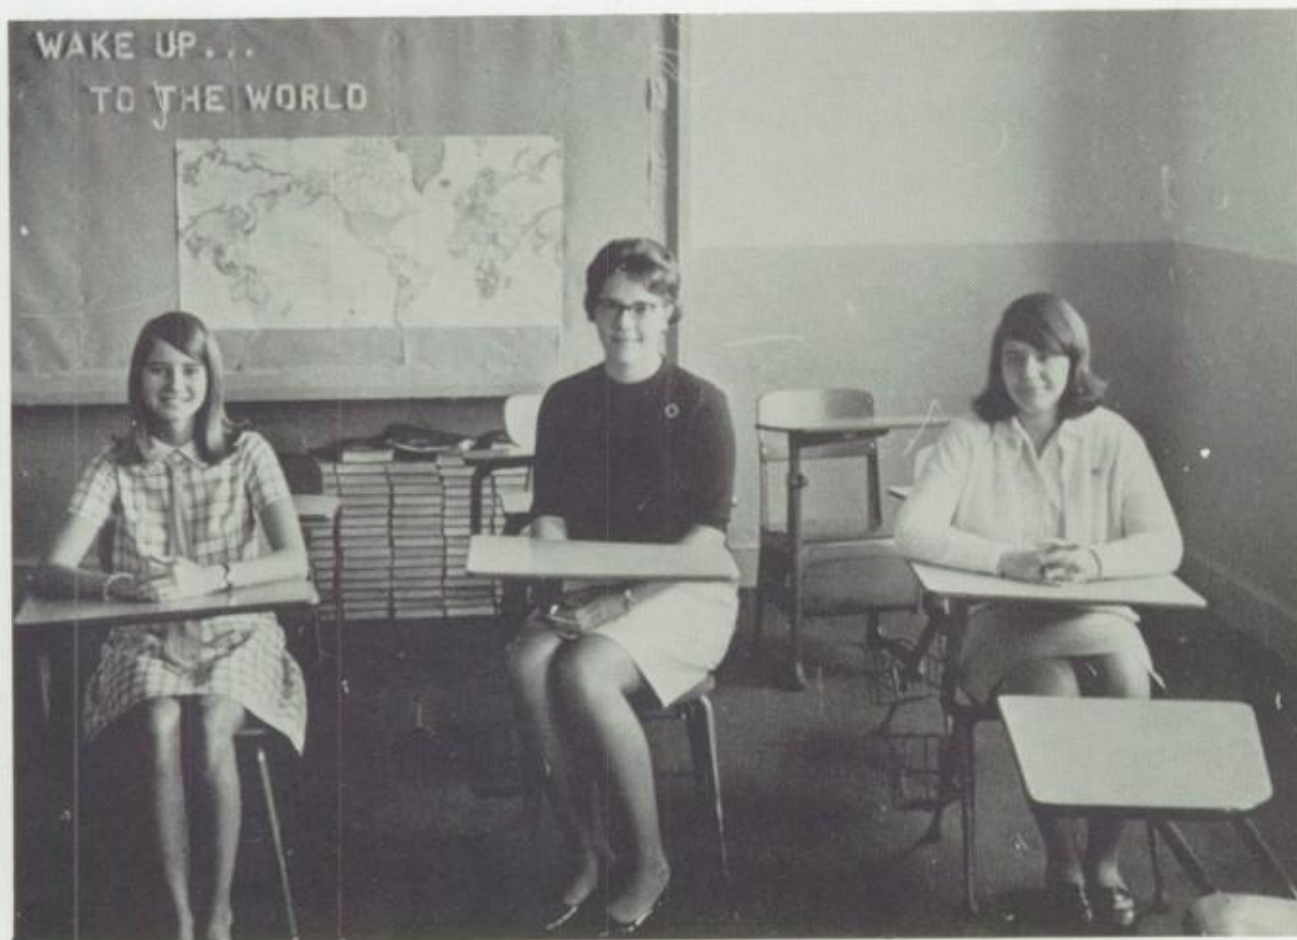

NHS Attends State Convention

Dave Anderson and Ted Stanley discuss questions for the Brain Brawl with Mr. Jacobson.

The National Honor Society is an organization which recognizes outstanding achievements in four fields. Not only must a student have a high scholastic average, but he must also possess leadership, character, and service.

This year our local branch was active in both the school and community. The organization put on a small program for a local church at the beginning of the year. Coke parties were planned for Honor Roll students and a student directory was published by the club. The annual Brain Brawl was held and a $150 scholarship was given to a worthy senior. Some members also attended the state convention at Jacksonville, Florida this year.

Officers of NHS are Paulette Amberg, secretary; Roseanna Bradshaw, president; and Virginia Dye, treasurer.

Latin Club Plans Banquet

Latin Club is an organization for students who are presently taking Latin or have taken it in the past. Some of Latin Club's activities this year were a Thanksgiving banquet for all members, slave day to initiate new members, and singing of Latin songs. For Homecoming Latin Club built a Roman chariot and entered it in the parade.

The Latin Club Homecoming entree showed ingenuity and skill. Members worked long hours to make it.

MFL Studies Culture

The Modern Foreign Language Club at Charlotte High joins the two countries of France and Spain.

The members of MFL are students who have studied or are taking Spanish or French.

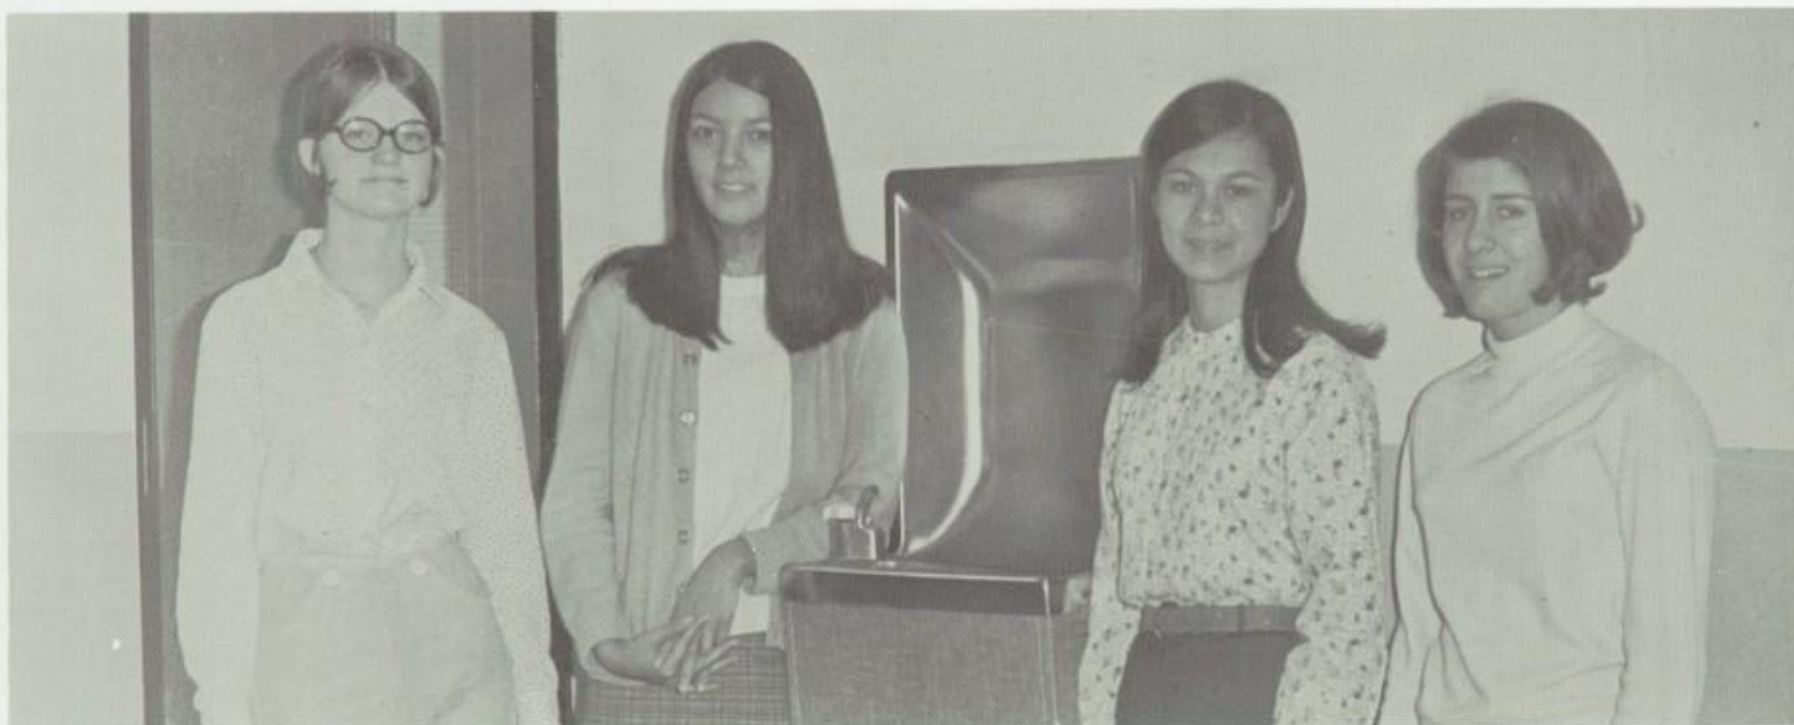

In MFL, the members broaden their knowledge of the two countries by reading material, films, and tapes and studying their culture.

Kathy Nichols and Alba Vittoria find a map helpful in locating various cities.

Alba Vittoria, Terry Knecht, and Kathy Nichols view a film about Spanish customs.

Members of MFL are Connie Parker, Judy Fulton, Terry Knecht, and Alba Vittoria.

The Homecoming sidewalk was the major money raising project for Lettermen's Club.

Lettermen Add Spirit

The Lettermen's Club is composed of all boys who have earned a varsity letter from Charlotte High. This year the club sold cement squares in the new sidewalk at Tarpon Stadium for a Homecoming project. The club also sat enmasse at basketball games to lend its vocal support to the Tarpons. Highlight of the year's activities was a trip to a pro football game in Miami, between the New York Jets and the Miami Dolphins.

CHS Para-Meds Serve

Any person interested in medicine or willing to help people can join Para-Meds. The Para-Meds serve in St. Joseph or Charlotte Community hospitals. Members wear pink and white uniforms and devote two days a week to voluntary work in one of the hospitals. Along with working in the hospital, the "candy strippers" had guest speakers at their regular meetings. They learned about medicine while serving in the hospital and also the importance of kindness and compassion in their work.

Two "candy strippers" make the rounds at Charlotte Community Hospital, spreading cheer and lending a helping hand whenever needed.

Promoting school spirit and the selling of ribbons are just some of the many projects Pep Club sponsored this year. Cheerblock, a group of twenty girls, was formed to help support our fighting Tarpons at all home basketball games. The girls wore blue and gold jerseys and white gloves. Along with clapping with the "pep" band, cheerblock spelled out words with the colored jerseys.

One of the major projects of Pep Club was the annual Powderpuff football game. Seniors won the game 15-7, but the Juniors and Sophomores put on a good show. At halftime Stan Lowe was crowned the 1969 Powderpuff queen.

Later on in the year some members of Pep Club challenged the Key Club to an exciting basketball game.

The officers of Pep Club are Linda Collins, Beverly Price, Carol Seward, and Sherye Wolfram.

Pep Club Promotes

The 1969 Pep Club supported the fighting Tarpons at all their games. These girls kept up school spirit by selling booster ribbons and pins and making posters for all athletic events.

Spirit

Go, Fight, Win! yell the enthusiastic members of Cheerblock at a home game.

"The Ward" staff include (seated) David Headman, Krissy Pascal, Connie Ballinger, Sheryl Wolfram, Nancy Mertz. (standing) Thyron Mitchell, Tyrone Johnson, Beverly Price, Dave Anderson, Carolyn Peeples, Bruce Shiel, Lynn Harrell, Ted Doras, and Tom Fulton.

CHS Welcomes "The Ward"

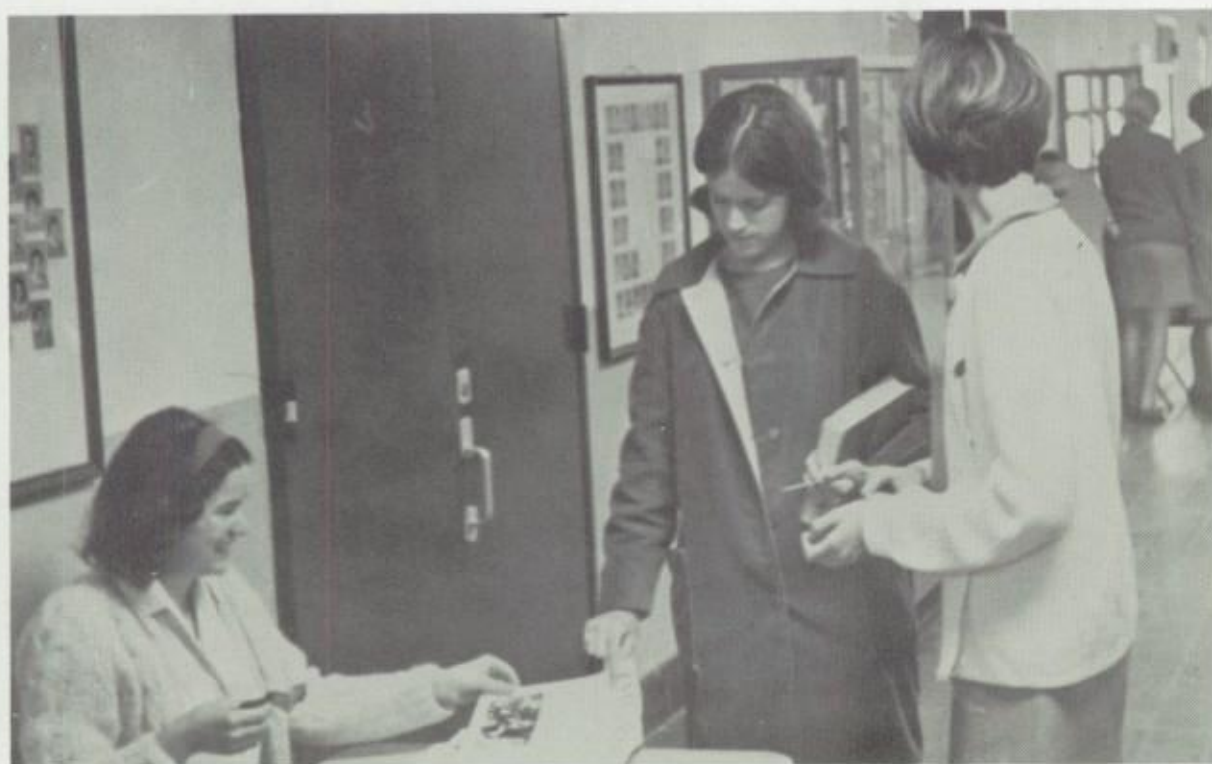

This year, under the direction of Miss Ransom, the journalism class produced "The Ward". The newspaper featured articles of interest to both students and faculty. The paper was published at the school on a machine purchased expressly for that purpose. In addition to publishing the paper, journalism students learned the fundamentals of reporting and editing during their fifth hour class.

Ready to start another busy day the members of the staff, hurry to meet the deadline.

Connie Ballinger, editor of "The Ward", looks over a recent copy of the paper with Miss Ransom.

Dawn Hummel purchases a copy of the school newspaper from its advisor, Miss Ransom.

Officers of Honor Society are Holly Stanley, Jena Jernigan, Debbie Nussdorfer, and Gary Sparks.

NJHS Members Set Goals High

The highest honor that can be bestowed upon a junior high student, is membership in the National Junior Honor Society. Its members are students who have shown outstanding qualities worthy of merit.

The organization's major project was the sale of "Tarpon" subscriptions in the Junior High School. Along with active membership in the club, its members must work hard to keep up their averages.

Spanish Club Organizes in CJHS

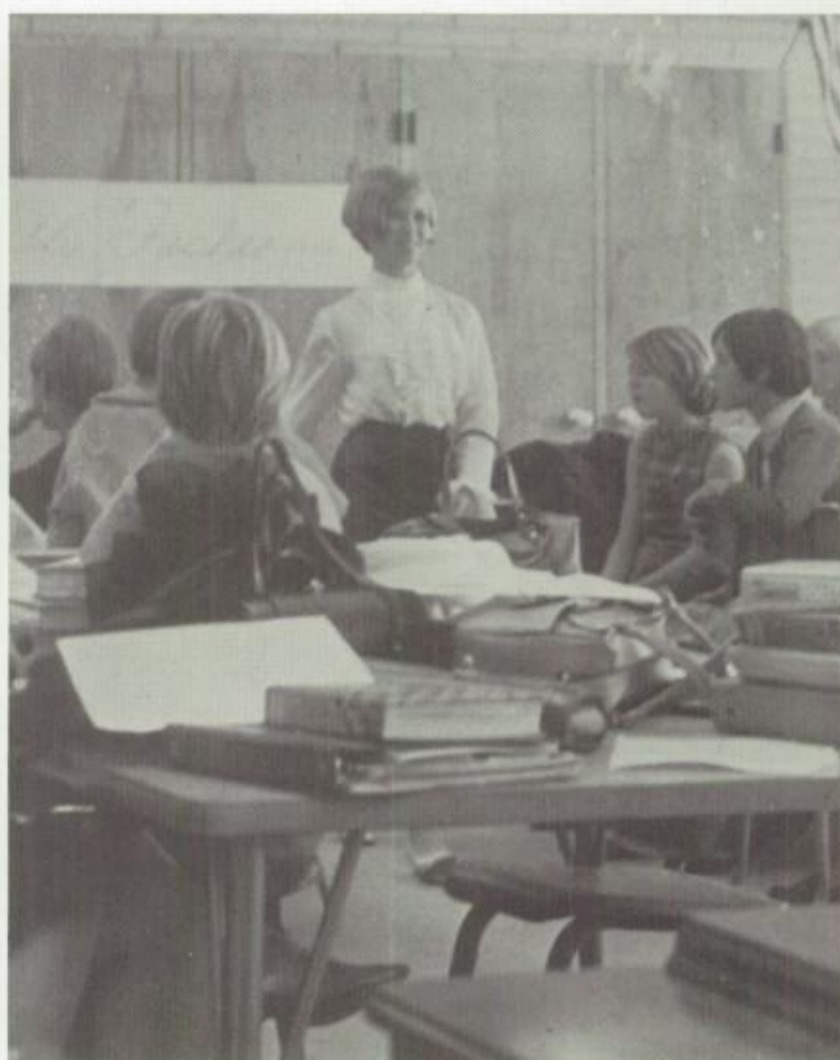

Officers are Nancy Wheeler, Steve Gordon, Wayne Sallade and Hal Jones.

The Spanish Club proved to be one of the more successful Junior High clubs. Through the use of films and a tape recorder, the members learned about the Spanish culture and to speak their language. They presented an enjoyable skit for one of the pep assemblies last fall, before one of the football games. Mrs. Lee, the Spanish Club sponsor, gave an authentic Spanish Christmas party at her home, complete with pinata. They had a guest speaker Belquis Gordon, at one of their meetings, who talked to them about life in Cuba.

This group of active officers helped make Future Homemakers an enjoyable and rewarding club for all its members.

FHA Plans Fashion Show

The Future Homemakers of America are girls who are interested in the art of homemaking. A girl who has taken or is presently taking a year of home economics is eligible for membership in FHA.

Through FHA, the girls learn how to be better homemakers, which will help them in their future years.

The motto of Future Homemakers is "New Horizons". FHA is sponsored by the Junior High home economics teachers.

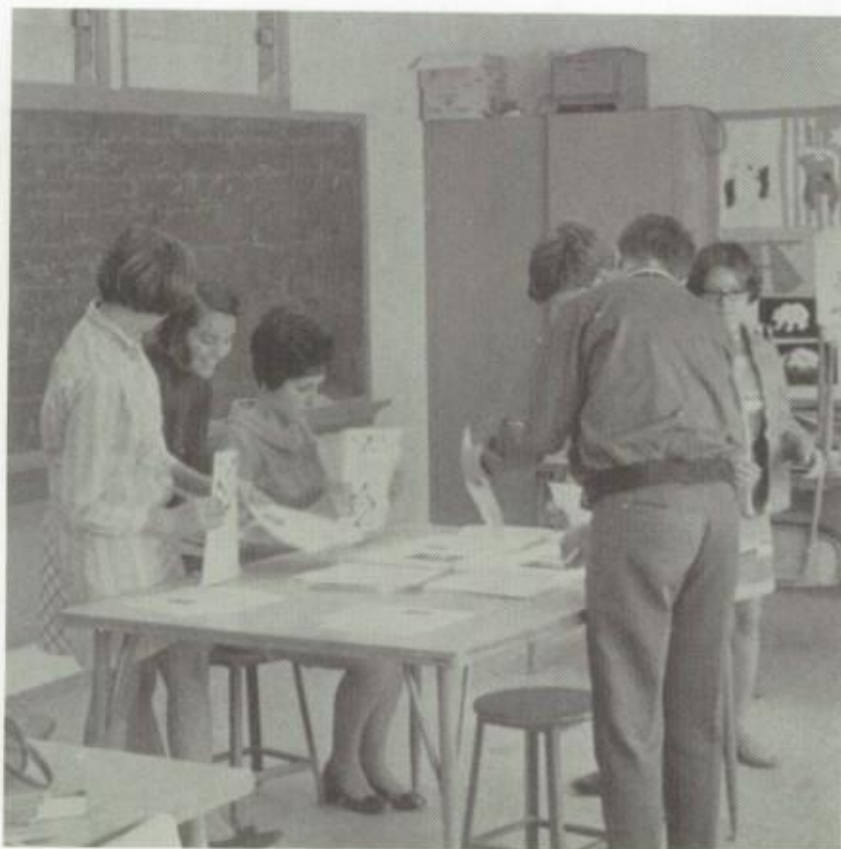

One of the organization's projects was a fashion show for the entertainment of its members and other interested people. The girls worked hard on their outfits and made the show a big success.

Staff Reports Happenings

The staff assembles the next edition of the Happening.

The Newspaper Staff at the Charlotte Junior High is made up of eager young students who are interested in journalism.

The students on the newspaper staff gathered information on the activities of the school. This year the paper gained a new name, Hurricane Happening. The staff put out a special Christmas issue for the enjoyment of the student body and faculty.

Sports-Minded GAA

GAA members play an exhausting game of soccer. These girls enjoy sports and stay after school to participate in them.

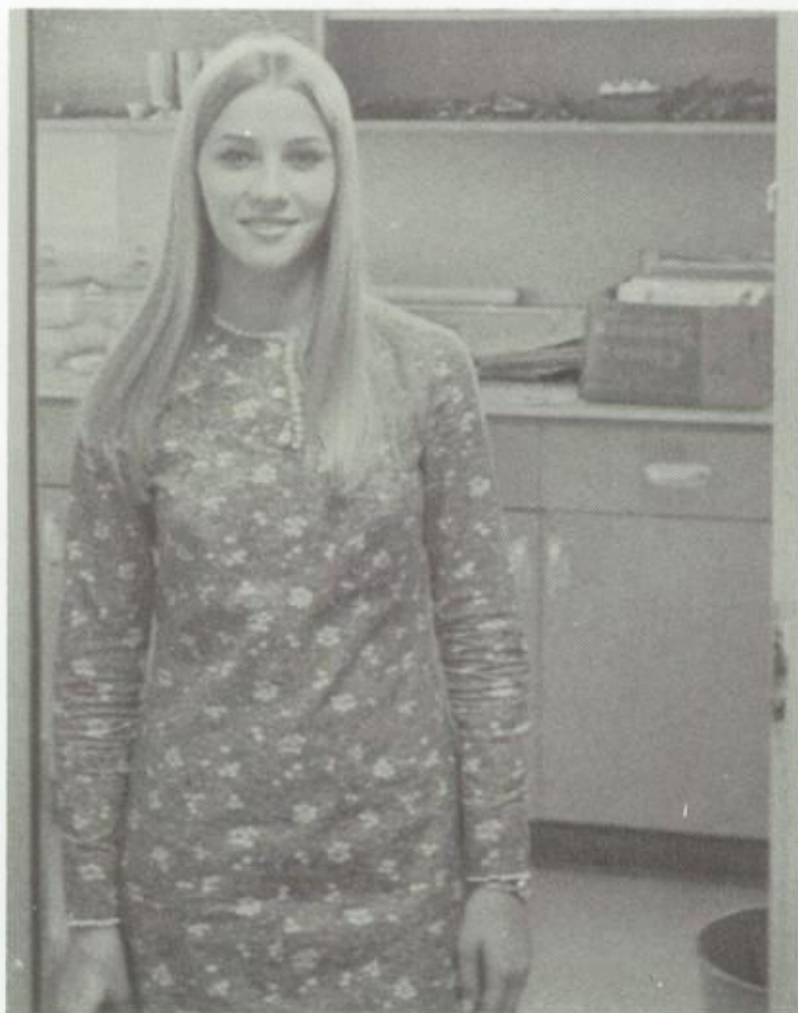

These are the girls who belonged to the 1968-1969 GAA organization.

Key Club Serves Community

A new organization was formed at CHS for our outstanding boys. Key Club is a service-minded organization sponsored by the Kiwanas. In December the members were initiated at an impressive banquet with over 200 people attending.

This year the club went Christmas caroling to various homes in the community. The members sponsored a basketball game against the Kiwanas for the March of Dimes. They also visited various churches to represent the Key Club. A basketball game against girls in Pep Club proved to be a big success.

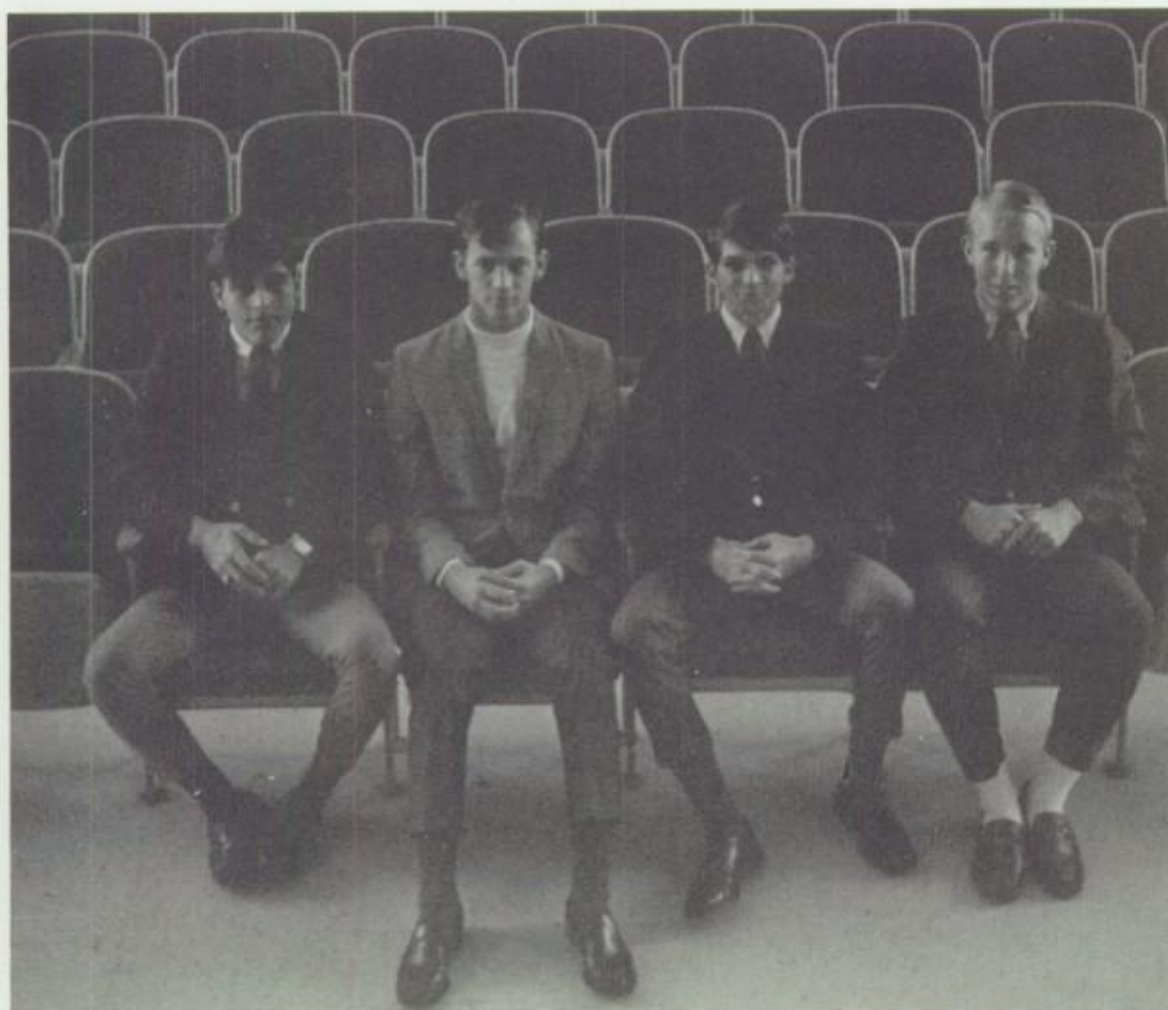

Marcia Brady, Key Club sweetheart, was also the club's candidate for Miss CHS.

Coach Lay, sponsor of Key Club, gets ready to leave with some of the charter members.

Officers of the Key Club are Carmen Racioppi, secretary; Bob Shakeshaft, vice president; Frank Desguin, president; and Harold Mack, treasurer.

D.C.T. Starts Successful

The club accomplished many of its objectives through the various worthwhile projects. The club float, entitled, "Tip A Canoe and Venice Too," won first prize, in the Homecoming competition. The club spirit continued to show, as sponsor of the Homecoming Dance and host the following morning for district convention. At the convention D.C.T. again took first place by having Becky Setliffe elected Governor of District 7, C.E.C.F. Also, the parliamentary procedure team took first place and in all, 11 members will represent them at the state convention in May at Jacksonville. Other activities include early breakfasts, fund-raising and Christmas baskets for the needy.

Year at Charlotte High

Officers are Vinton Trefz, Student Council representative, Debbie Bitner, Treasurer, Diane Broadwater, Secretary, Denise Teller, Historian, and Bicki Crosland, Vice President.

Members of D.C.T. include (first row) Mike Koenig, Blair Bosman, Dave Sauders, Mike Gordon, John Leach, Vinton Trefz, Janet Osborne, Barbara Scott, Melinda Clark, Shiela Kessler. (Second row) Don Romer, Mike McKinney, Denise Hogan, Barbara Shannon, Becky Setliffe, Carol Seward, Diane Broadwater, Debbie Bitner, Denise Tellier, Mike Warren and Earl Crump.

Pep Club discusses their latest project.

Pep Club Cheers Hurricanes

Supporting their undefeated football team and their basketball team, the Junior High Pep Club cheered them on to victory. They were present at all home games to help the cheerleaders in doing cheers.

Mrs. Hager, a Junior High girls physical education teacher, sponsored Pep Club this year. Their major project was selling booster ribbons, along with supporting the fighting Hurricanes. This year the club had a lot to yell about with the first undefeated football team in Charlotte County history.

Mrs. Ann Hager, Pep Club sponser, talks to some girls during one of her P.E. classes.

Pep Club officers are Linda Presley, Patti Treworgy, Robin Wright, Jenny Ash.

Thespians

Ellison Haddock and Bob Cox rehearse a violent scene from the play.

The members of the cast read through the play to get the feel of the lines.

Present "The Crucible"

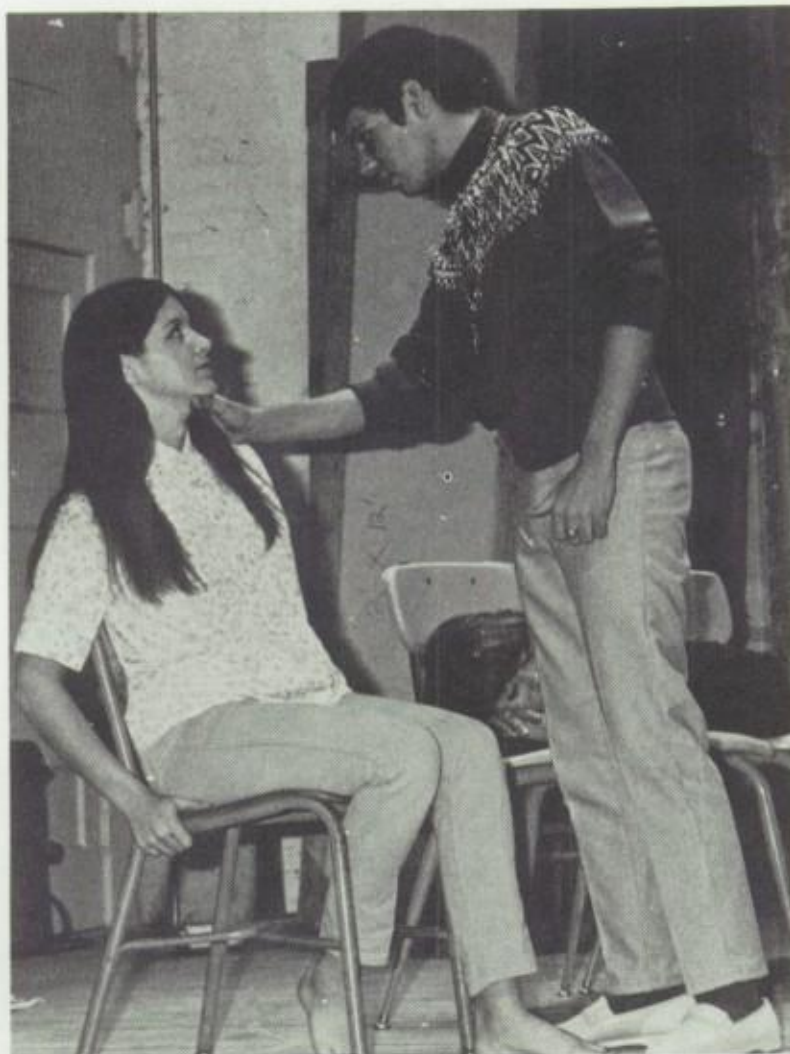

Members of Thespians are Steve Reilly, Sheila Duffany, Ellison Haddock, Andrea Irons, Bruce Shiel, Patty Duffany, Mary Fraker, Kevin Seitz, Betty McCloskey, Carlos Cox, and Craig Canfield.

Thespians are students who are interested in dramatics and who have earned one-hundred points, each point representing ten hours of work.

This year the Thespians worked many long and hard hours to present "The Crucible." The play was directed by Harry Leith.

The theme of the play dealt with the Salem witch trials as a symbolic comparison to happenings in our time.

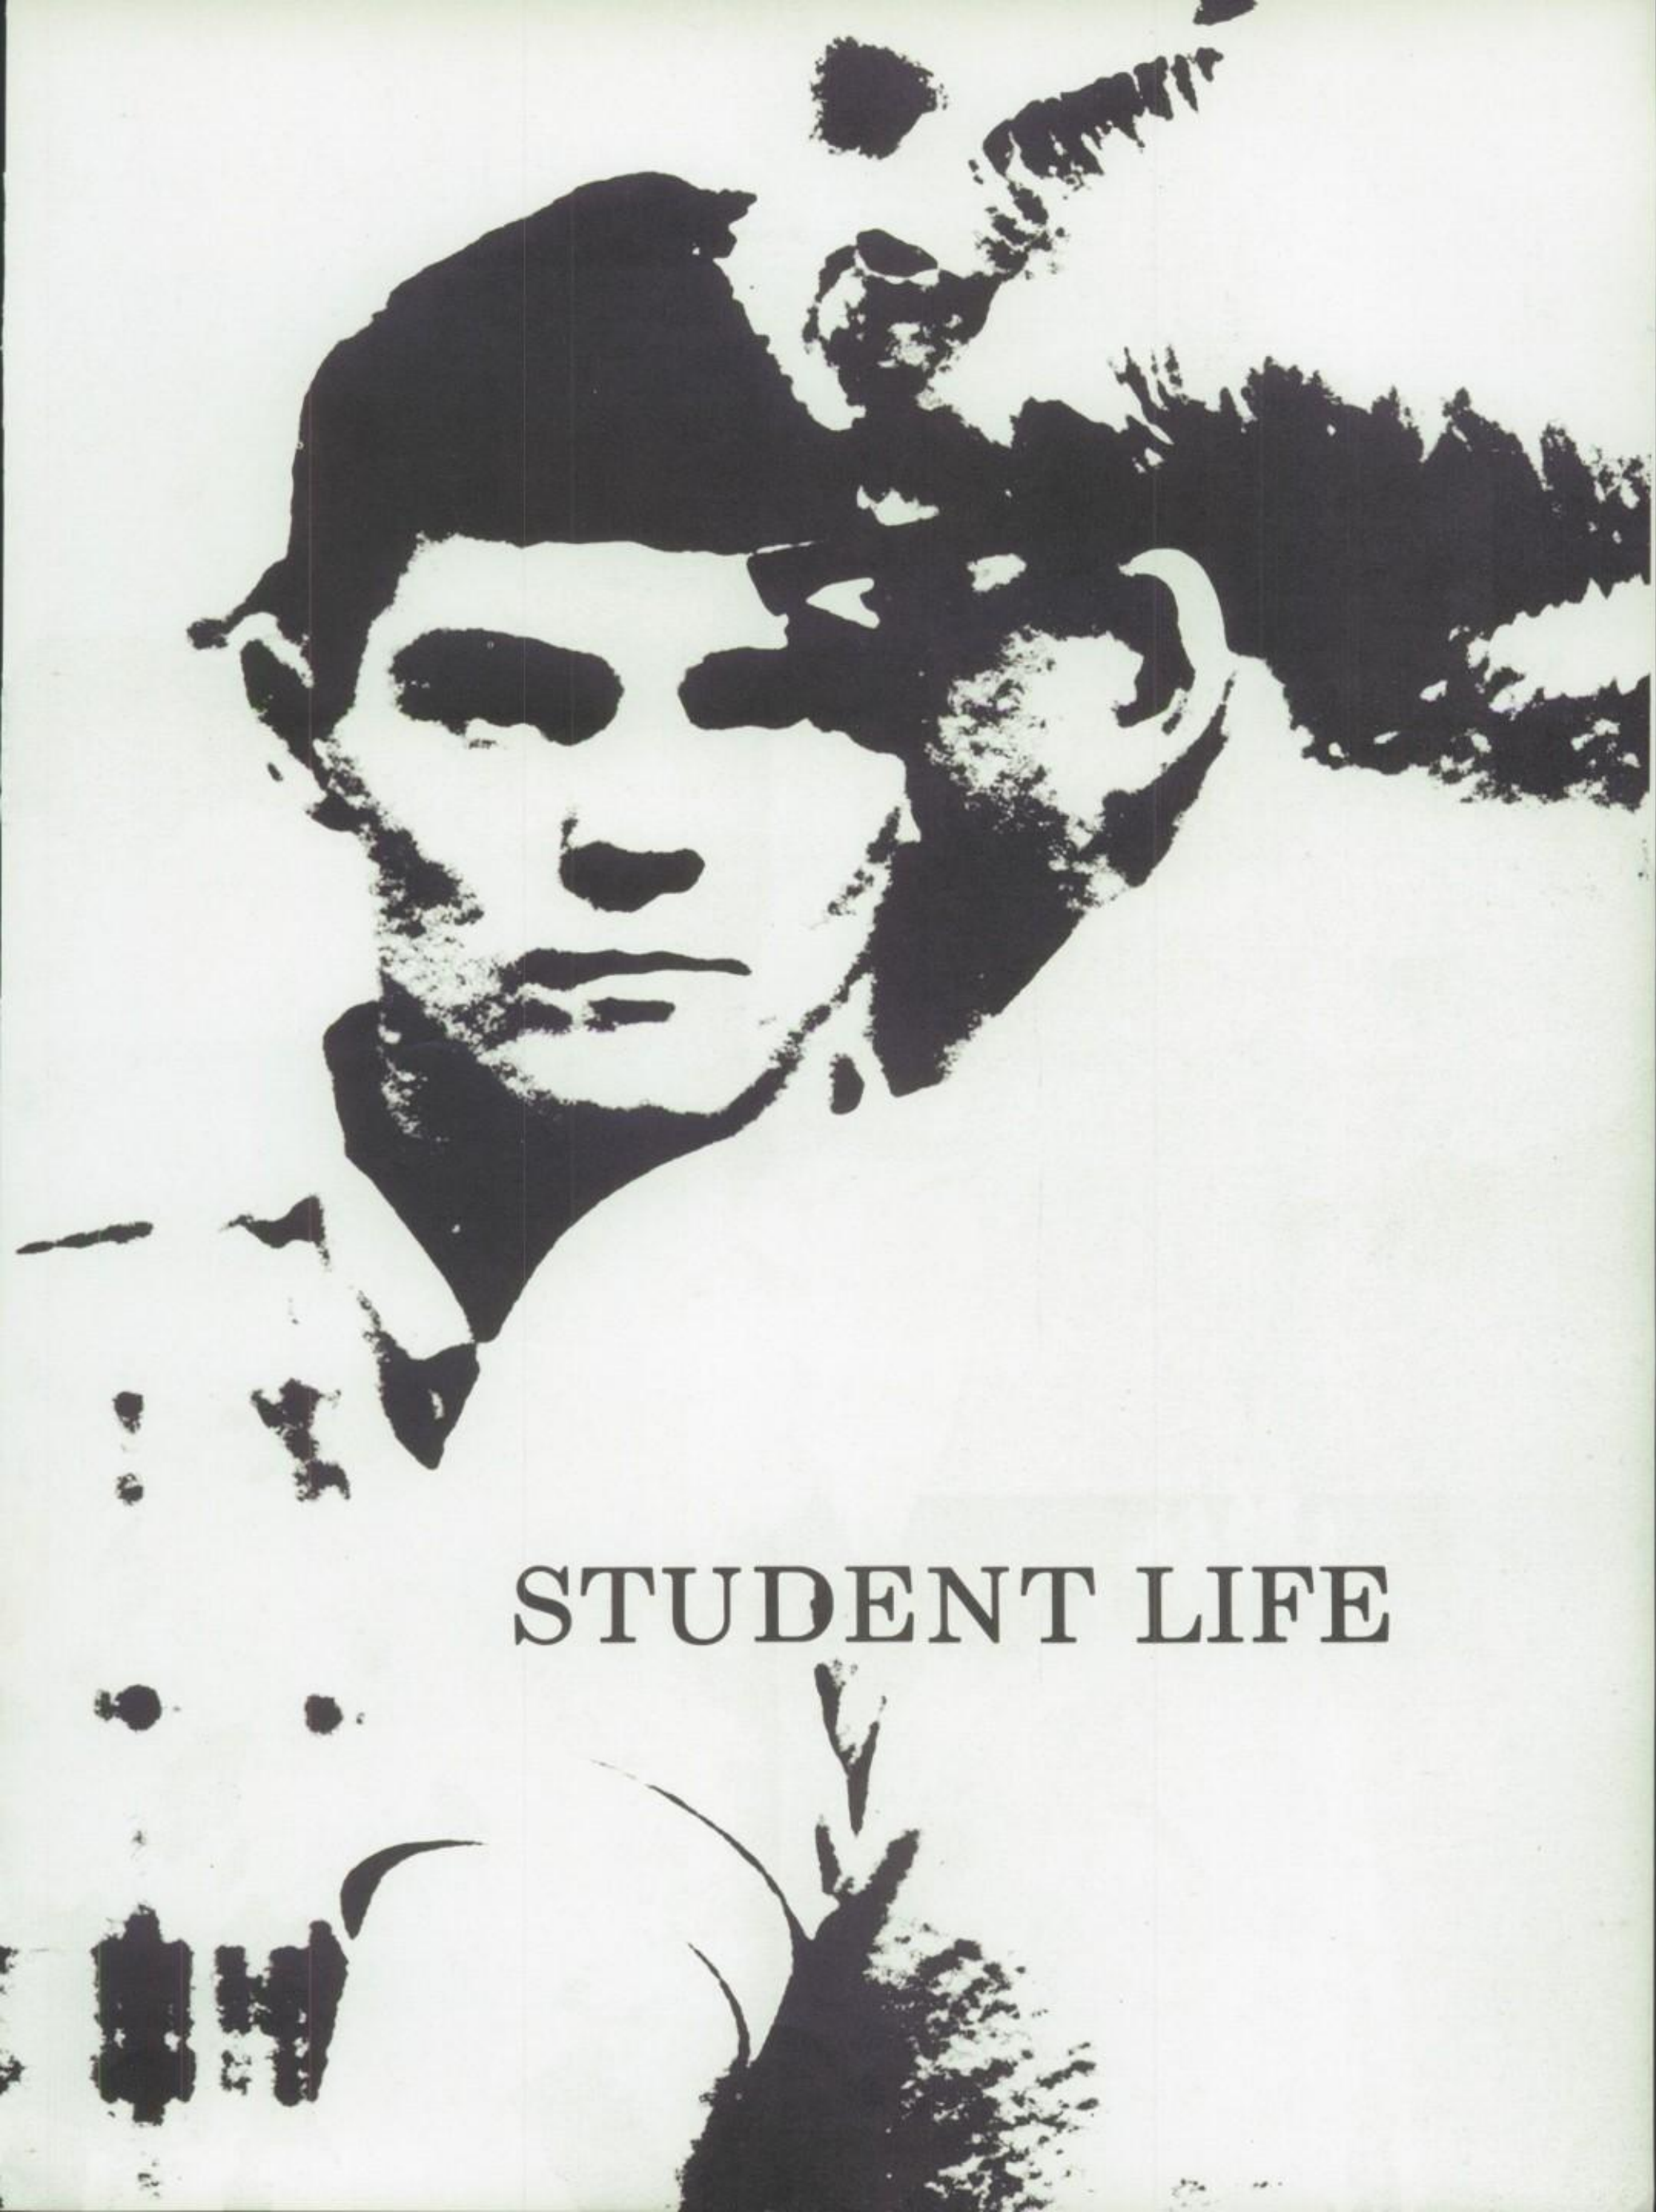

Andrea Irons and Bruce Shiel talk quietly as Patty Duffany sleeps.

STUDENT LIFE

Bonfire and Floats Precede

Charlotte High students congregate at the annual bonfire to cheer on the football team.

Two students apply the foil to the Tarpon on Sophomore float.

Homecoming Climax

Homecoming was a great success this year and one of the most active in the school's history. It consisted of a week of exciting activities climaxed by the football game. On Monday, (Nov. 18), competition was started on the buying of pins for the pin dummy. On Tuesday the Letterman's club had the sidewalk writing sale. Wednesday was "Grub Day" when the students tried to dress grubbier than anyone else in school. Also, on Wednesday was Field Day, a series of races in which the Junior class showed it's racing prowess by winning all events. On Thursday came the bonfire and snakedance to build spirit for the game. The Seniors took the spirit competition at the bonfire however outnumbered by the underclassmen. Friday was the parade and the winner of the float competition was once again DCT. The other place winners were; Senior Class, second and Junior class, third. The Homecoming Queen this year, crowned at halftime at the game, was a Senior, Miss Patty Kaye.

The Junior float Tarpon showed much skill and hard work on the part of it's creators.

The pin-dummy lies a-burning as the crowd roars it's approval.

Seniors Are Victorious

The Powderpuff Football Game this year proved to be a clean sweep for the Seniors. The main factor in the game was in the person of Cathy Lloyd. She made all the scores for the Senior team except for a two point touchback forced by the defense. Her speed led the Senior team, coached by Mike Lay, to victory.

The Junior-Sophomore team, coached by Bob Jacobson, played an excellent game but could not cope with the more experienced Seniors. The final score: Seniors-16, Junior-Sophomores-7.

Pep Rallies, Our Spirit

Carlos Cox introduces a skit put on in the gym as Coach Lay, apparently amused, awaits the cue for his part.

Pep Rallies have always been a great factor in building spirit prior to an athletic activity. So has it ever been and so is it at Charlotte High. There was a new twist added in Pep Rallies this year. For the first time they were held in the auditorium. Some, however, were still held in the gymnasium, as usual. A great deal of attention was given to spirit contests this year. Led by the Cheerleaders, the classes tried to "outshout" each other with the Junior class a more than frequent winner. The Band played at a couple of Rallies and was always well received. At one of the Pep Rallies in the gym, a skit was put on by a group of NFL students and Coach Mike Lay. Also, at each Rally in the gym, a different segment of the football team was introduced.

HONORS

Homecoming Opens the Year

MISS PATTY KAYE, HOMECOMING QUEEN

The Homecoming festivities started off this year with the Senior, Junior, and Sophomore classes, D.C.T. and Latin Club making floats for the Homecoming Parade. Many hours were spent on the making of these floats. At half-time, during the football game that evening, the floats were judged with the D.C.T. float winning, the Senior float second, and the Junior float third. Also during half-time, the new Homecoming Queen was chosen. Marcia Brady, last year's Homecoming Queen, bestowed the honor upon Patty Kaye, a Senior. Following the final football game of the season, the Homecoming Dance was held in the school gymnasium.

Tarpon Wrestlers

The ancient art of wrestling was introduced to Charlotte High School this year and the Tarpon wrestlers turned out to be one of the best first year teams in Florida! Wrestling is fast becoming a popular sport in Florida, and is soon expected to be at the top of the charts with football and basketball. Mr. Steve Archer, former U.S. Olympic wrestler and coach, and referee of 1964 Olympics was often around to instruct the team with Coach Jim Thomas. With a 3w-7L season, the Tarpon wrestlers showed superior ability on the mat.

Hardworking, but fun-loving captain Patty Kaye demonstrates a cheer for the team.

Cheerleaders Lead

Leading this year's school spirit were our vivacious varsity cheerleaders. Not only did they practice cheers, take part in Pep Club, and lead pep rallies, but they also did a wonderful job of cheering our boys on to victory. Following the leadership of Patty Kaye, these girls have helped to awaken the new spirit of Charlotte High.

This year, separate junior varsity cheerleaders were chosen, in an effort to gain more support for our junior varsity athletes.

CLASSES

Class of '69'

Mr. Harold Selley looks happily over senior students who are in his class.

The new spirit and drive to better Charlotte High got into full swing this year. The Senior Class of "69", with their advisor Mr. Harold Selley, did their part to set an example for the underclassmen and to start a new day for C.H.S.

In the fall the Seniors started the year by selecting their class flower: "dark roses"; class colors: burgundy and white; and their class motto: "In ourselves our future lies". Activities wise the year got off to a good start with the first of two Senior Barbeques. After placing second in the Homecoming Float Competition the seniors kept up the pace with Senior Skip Day, and the remaining Senior Barbeque. Then came the Senior Dinner Dance and finally Graduation, the culmination of four hard years of labor. But all in all, the Seniors are proud of their school and proud to be able to say, "I was a part of it".

Juniors Help to Make C.H.S. a Better Campus

Kay Persons—Treasurer; Pam Slocum—Secretary; Terri Zimmerman—Vice President; Carl White—President.

The spirited Class of '70 helped in making this year one of Charlotte's most memorable years.

These 143 juniors spent many pleasurable but tiring hours working on the Homecoming Float. They felt anxiety in those last few days before rings came in, showed pride in their school through their ardent faith in going to football games, powderpuff and other school sponsored activities.

As the year came to a climax, the juniors were still working feverishly on the Junior Prom, the most exciting project of the junior class.

Even though you can always find some mishaps, each class brings to the school, the students brought to C.H.S. a vitality which hopefully will be carried throughout Charlotte High's upcoming years and possibly into the future.

Mrs. Overbey, the class sponsor, helped in making this junior year one of the most enjoyable.

The Executive Council skillfully directs their class.

Sophomores Add Spirit to C.H.S.

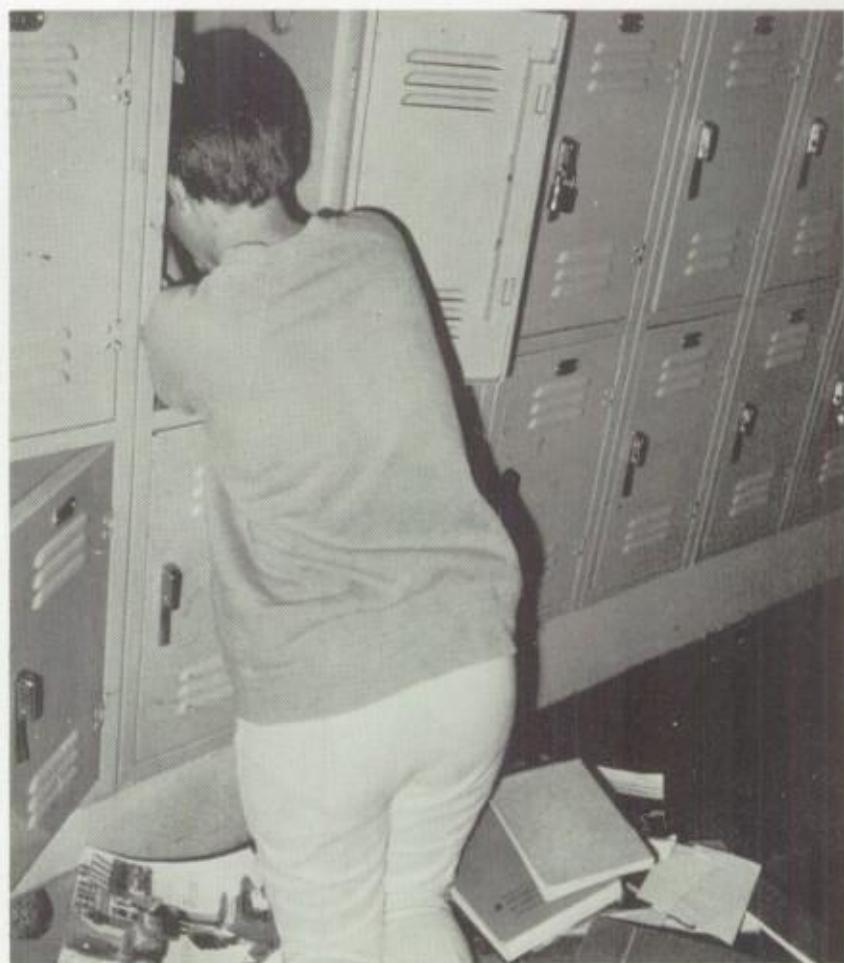

The Sophomore Class officers were John Herlovich, president; Sharon Witter, vice-president; Terry Hitch, secretary; and Karen Brandon, treasurer.

The doors of Charlotte High School opened once more to receive 305 vibrant sophomores.

As the Class of '71 they brought spirit and enthusiasm to the halls of C.H.S. A new realm of Homecoming floats, magazine sales, and planning of the annual sophomore dance were just a few of the activities which awaited them.

Under the guidance of their advisor, Mr. Overbey, they met many challenges and captured many memorable moments throughout the year.

In years to come, teachers and students will look back upon this year and remember sophomores as a true reflection of the events of the school year and what every class strives for.

Freshmen Show Pride in Their Class

Showing a feeling of pride, the Class of '72 established itself as the leader of Charlotte Junior High School.

Heading most school clubs and attending school sponsored functions were some of the activities enjoyed by the ninth graders.

The undefeated football season was one to be remembered by the class.

Toward the end of the year these students began reflecting memories of their years in junior high but also started thinking ahead to their first year in high school.

As the photographer snaps the picture, Mr. Daby and Kenny Poteet give a harty laugh.

Eighth Graders Take Part in C.J.H.S.

Eighth grade students began the 1968-1969 school year under the direction of a new principal, a well informed Dr. James Scaggs.

Attending school dances, cheering their team on to victory on the football field, and membership in clubs were some of the things they participated in throughout the year.

As the school year neared its end the class turned its thoughts to those of the 1969-1970 school year and being the leader of C.J.H.S.

Seventh Graders Begin New School Life

A new world opened up for seventh graders on September 3, 1968. Confused and bewildered, they struggled to adjust to their new school life. Changing classes, remembering all the numbers assigned to them, new lunch shifts, and club memberships are but a few of the many tasks they had to face from day to day.

This year many seventh grade students attended class in the new air-conditioned portables. This added to their comfort while they strove to obtain much needed knowledge.

Seventh grade was the beginning of the long rigorous years through Junior High and High School. The Class of 1974 have accepted the responsibilities thrust upon them and look forward to the years ahead when they will lead the school.
